Manager Decision Awaited

Council Gets Petitions

It will be decided today whether the Citizens' committee for Council-Manager plan has succeeded in its efforts to have the issue placed on the November ballot.

Submitted to council yesterday were 98 petitions bearing 2,233 signatures. Only 1,800 signatures are required under the law.

However, City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said many of the signatures would "be tossed out."

Among the signatures that can not be considered are those signed in pencil, Kalbfleisch said.

A spot check of the petitions indicated there would be more than the required 1,800 even after the illegal names were crossed off the petitions.

VOTE REQUIRED

The Ohio constitution provides council must prepare an ordinance to submit the issue to a vote if the required signatures are presented. Council will act on the petitions at its meeting tonight if it is determined there are sufficient valid names.

The issue which will appear on the November ballot is: "Shall a Commission be chosen to Frame a Charter."

If that issue receives a favorable vote at the November election, a charter will be drawn up with provisions for a city manager type of government. The charter then will be placed before the voters, probably in 1950.

Approval of the charter by Mansfielders would give the city a council-manager form of government to replace the present mayor-council system.

The city officials in office at the time the charter was approved would remain in office for the remainder of their term.

With success at each election, the city manager form could go into effect here in 1952.

Weather Warms Up

After several days of cool weather Mansfield is heading back into another heat wave. The weatherman calls it "average August weather" but to Mansfielders it's just plain hot.

Yesterday's high of 84 was at 3 p. m., according to the Civil Aeronautics station at municipal airport. The low today, 63, was recorded at 5:30 a. m.

Weather forecasters expect considerable cloudiness thoughout the day with the high temperature around 84 degrees. Showers are predicted for the east portion of the state this afternoon and evening. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy.

The present conditions are expected to hold out through Friday with decreasing cloudiness. Checking through the temperature around the nations, Mansfield's 85 was as cool as the Vermont mountains. Los Angeles withered under 98-degree heat yesterday while the folks in Tucson suffered a 103-degree high for the day.

Nine-Month Old Tot Hangs Self In Crib

BELLEFONTAINE — (INS) — Funeral services for a nine-month-old baby girl who hanged herself in her crib were arranged today in Bellefontaine.

The child was Laverne Ann Wilkinson of DeGraff, who twisted a dangling clothesline about her neck while her parents were in another part of the house.

Heave-Ho, Sea Skipper Overboard

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—(INS)—Frank Priessnitz, captain of the 40-foot cabin cruiser High-Ho, has a distinct aversion today to the familiay sea-chantey "Anchors Aweigh."

Frank, guided by the bluejackets manual, tossed his anchor overboard on making port. But he got fouled up, literally, in the operation, and followed the anchor over the side.

Coastguardsmen who rescued the red-faced skipper treated him for shock and submersion.

Ohio Bell Biggest Owner of Local Phone Firm's Stock

Ohio Bell Telephone company of Cleveland owns the largest block of stock in Mansfield's "independent" telephone company, city officials discovered yesterday when they examined Public Utilities Commission of Ohio records in Columbus.

The company's annual report submitted to the PUCO early this year showed Ohio Bell owns 19,527 of the company's 62,552 shares. That is more stock than is held by the next two largest shareholders combined. However, it is far from being a controling interest.

Other major shareholders of the company's 20 stockholders are: Ada Ford, 8,139 shares; Carrie Ford, 6,615 shares; Hortense R. Tucker, of Shreveport, Ohio, 2,787; M. D. Ward, 2,725; A. D. Krause, 2,003; estate of Mary B. Rigby, 1,998; and Gustav Hirsch, 1,793.

The PUCO records also disclosed 16,352 shares of stock were issued in 1948. The stock was sold at a private sale, and 1947 stockholders purchased the entire amount.

Ohio Bell increased its holdings from 13,017 to 19,527 shares at that sale, PUCO records disclosed.

In a two-and-a-half-hour conference yesterday city officials discussed the Mansfield Telephone company's application for a rate increase with several top PUCO officials.

Among them were Chief Engineer J. L. Doyle, Chief Accountant E. E. Knaub and Administrative Executive Carl D. Turner.

Following the meeting city officials indicated a rate expert may be working for the city within two weeks.

Hiring an expert to work on behalf of the city was looked on with favor by the PUCO executives.

Compromise Looms In Arms Plan

Major Changes Due In Measure

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Administration leaders today are seeking a compromise to satisfy both the White House and a bipartisan congressional bloc demanding only a stop-gap "arms for friends" program.

One of their first duties is to eliminate language in pending legislation which critics claim would make President Truman a virtual "war lord" in carrying out the one billion, 450 million dollar plan.

Senate Republican foreign policy leader Vandenberg, Mich., and other lawmakers made their position clear in a secret conference with Secreatry of State Acheson and Defense Secretary Johnson.

The two cabinet members were informed in strong language that if the arms-sharing bill is passed, it must be made "more palatable" by curtailing proposed powers for the President.

Acheson and Johnson reportedly agreed to take the congressional request "under consideration." They were asked to report back Friday to the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees.

At issue is a provision empowering the President to send American weapons to "any" country which asked them and upon terms he could decide.

A Democratic leader said a committee of State and Defense department experts will go to work today in an attempt to find "softening" language acceptable to both the White House and capitol hill.

Senate GOP Policy Chairman Taft (R) Ohio, said that even if the bill is modified to eliminate sweeping presidential powers, he will oppose it. He explained: "A compromise version might take away some of my arguments, but I am against the arms program and expect to oppose it."

The two Senate committees postponed hearings on the bill until Monday in the hope that a revision will be ready.

Woman Gets Shock, Sees 'Kidnaping'

TOLEDO — (AP) — Mrs. Herbert McManus yesterday thought she saw two women being kidnaped in the front of her home, but it turned out the "kidnappers" had something else in mind.

When the men placed the two women in the trunk of their car, Mrs. McManus told her husband to chase them. Meanwhile she called police.

McManus caught up with the men — in a drive-in theater.

When Mrs. McManus phoned police again, she told them what had happened:

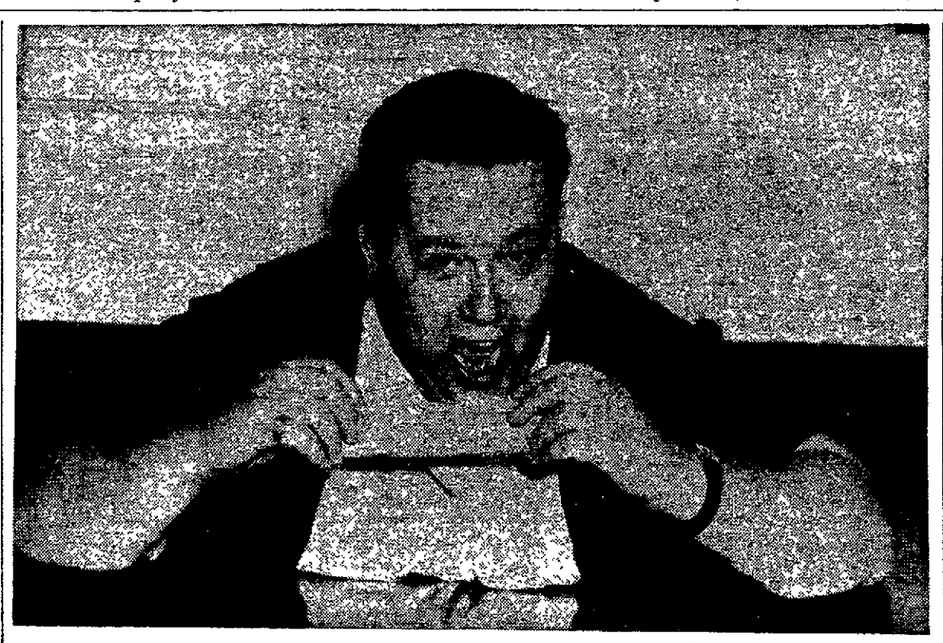
"The men pulled into a drive-in theater, bought two 60-cent tickets and drove inside just as Herbert pulled up behind them.

"He followed them in and saw the men unlock the trunk. Then the women got out and sat down in the back seat of the car to watch the movie.

2 Richland Men File For Office

Two more nominating petitions were filed today with the Richland county board of elections.

L. C. Peterson seeks office as a Mifflin township trustee. John Hamilton filed for council at Bellville.



HERE'S HOW—Sleeves rolled up and napkin in collar, jocular Ed Monahan, 110 Blymyer avenue, gets all set for that first big bite into a tender roastin' ear. Monahan, who's a corn-eater from 'way back, reported the situation well in hand. (News-Journal Photo).

Burglars Still Busy

Enter Home, Fail To Find Loot At Depot

Theft of $50 worth of tools from an inhabited home on Quincy street yesterday afternoon and an attempted burglary of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad ticket office early today are under police investigation.

Yesterday's incidents followed the burglary of six apartments at West Fourth and Bowman streets, Monday. Police said at least $966 in money and jewelry was taken.

Frank Piacent, 176 Quincy street, reported to police at 8:38 p. m. yesterday that a small electric drill and 50 bits were taken from his home Tuesday afternoon while Mrs. Piacent was painting upstairs. Piacent valued the tools at $50.

At 3:38 a. m. today, Ralph Gray, night ticket agent for the B and O, reported to police that someone had broken out an office window with a rock and entered while he met a train in the yards. Gray said an unlocked safe had been opened but nothing was taken.

Gray, who said the would-be thief left by the back door, added that nothing was missing from the office. He said he was gone from the office from 3:30 a. m. to 3:45 a. m. and he believed the noise of the train had prevented him from hearing the window break.

Taft Family To Plan Fall Tour

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Mrs. Martha Taft, wife of Sen. Robert A. Taft and his fellow campaigner, was expected in New York today to help map plans for his pre-campaign tour of Ohio this fall.

Butter Hazard Bobs Up Again

Nubbin Nibblers Face Yearly Problem

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Ah, butter is fine on luscious, fresh corn
But how'd ya keep it from running down your arm?
Or getting on your nose or stuffing up your ears?
It's been a problem, alas, for years 'in years.

Right now, it's reaching bigger proportions than the Chinese aid debate or the Marshall Plan or loans to Britain.

Nubbin nibblers like to attack the problem with gusto. That's the method of spreading butter on a piping hot ear, shaking a little salt on it, then, with the nubbin firmly secured in each hand, quickly elevating it to the choppers.

That's fine until you bite into the ear. Then, amid the succulent, sweet blend, one discovers a slippery feeling spreading slowly down the chin, across to the ears.

Then as you finish the first side of the ear, there's a sensation in the region of the elbow. The first thing a corn eater should learn is to roll his sleeves well above the elbow before starting the operation.

Since there has to be an answer to every problem nowadays, we'll just sit down and try to devise a method of eating said corn on the cob without experiencing some of the sweet misery connected with the treat.

If one side of the corn is buttered at a time, the melted spread is easier juggled from end to end without so much loss in dripping. In the meantime, the butter left on the plate is melting and ready for the other side of the ear.

START AT AN END

Now that the corn is buttered, take the ear firmly at each end. Sink the front teeth slowly into the ripe grains at ONE end of the ear. Do not start in the center, as too much of the butter and salt will be wasted on the face. Also, by slanting the ear a little, the butter can be drained into the end that's been emptied.

Now, presuming you have finished a length of the ear by now, return the ear to the plate, repeat the butter and salt process. This time, however, you'll have to be a little quicker on the nibbling as the butter will have had a chance to melt and will drip more easily.

Unless there's serious opposition to the napkin-in-the-collar technique in your home, now's a good time to employ the method. It may save the shirt front. Be sure you have plenty of elbow room, too, as this helps reduce possible casualties in the operation.

Now we start on the second side of the ear, presuming you've cleaned off the other side in good corn-eater fashion. By this time, you should be familiar enough with the technique to carry on for yourself.

Good luck, and pass the napkins, please. Something's dripping off my elbow.

Battle Wins In Virginia Primary

Byrd's Backing Proves Potent

RICHMOND, Va. — (AP) — Quiet conservative John Stewart Battle state senator with 20 years of legislative experience, captured yesterday's four-way Democratic primary election for governor and proved again the potency of the Virginia political organization headed by Senator Harry Byrd.

The 59 - year - old Charlottesville lawyer won party nomination that means election in November with 23,000 votes to spare on the basis of near-complete returns from the state's 1766 precincts.

He swept the field — capturing seven of the state's nine congressional districts. And in so doing he beat back his nearest competitor, Francis Pickens Miller, the anti-organization candidate and former army colonel, who posed the first serious threat to the organization's supremacy in the last 25 years.

Miller, second in the record primary that ran around 300,000 votes, captured the two remaining districts. Horace H. Edwards, former Richmond mayor and ex-chairman of the State Democratic party, ran far behind in third place. Remmie L. Arnold, Petersburg manufacturer and a newcomer to state politics, was last — far down the line.

Unofficial returns compiled by the Associated Press from 1,636 precincts gave:

Battle 127,549; Miller 104,178; Edwards, 44,601 and Arnold 21,022.

About midnight with the lead Battle grabbed away from Miller mounting by the minute as the rural areas made their votes heard, Edwards and Arnold conceded Battle's victory and pledged their support to him in the November general election.

A couple of hours later, Miller also conceded and congratulated Battle. He pledged him support in November but he added:

"Our movement will continue to organize the forces of the Democratic party until we have taken over control of the party—this is but the first round. We will continue the fight until we have won a complete victory."

Johnson To Get Power He Sought

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Only President Truman's signature was needed today to make effective the additional powers he has asked for Secretary of Defense Johnson.

The House finished congressional action on an armed forces unification bill yesterday by a 356 to 7 vote of approval.

GOP To Pick New Chairman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A three-way split in the Republican national committee cast doubt today on its choice of a new chairman. The election is set for tomorrow.

Backers of Guy George Gabrielson, New Jersey member, were claiming a majority of the 103 votes that might be cast. (There are two vacancies on the 105-member group.)

Critics of the Old Guard contingent supporting Gabrielson disputed this claim.

They added that any chairman who is chosen by fewer than 80 votes will face the same kind of committee dissension that eventually forced out Chairman Hugh Scott after he won a confidence test last January by a 54 to 50 margin. Scott has said he will turn in his resignation tomorrow.

As a compromise candidate, some western delegates were booming A. T. "Bert" Howard, Nebraska state chairman, who has the support of Senators Wherry and Butler and other Nebraska Republicans in Congress. Howard also had the backing of some members who have been critical of Scott's administration.

SUPPORTED DEWEY

The Nebraska state chairman was an easly supporter of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in the 1948 campaign but friends depicted him now as unpledged to any possible 1942 presidential candidate.

However, the majority of western committee members hadn't settled on any candidate. Their chief concern seemed to be to prevent Gabrielson, an easterner, from rounding out the party leadership positions that are nearly all in eastern hands.

The eastern delegates were among those supporting Gabrielson and the New York and Pennsylvania members, representing the Dewey viewpoint, who oppose Gabrielson but haven't finally settled on a candidate of their own.

Thus the three factions—one western and two eastern—seemed to have reached a temporary stalemate.

Tito Backs Red Split

Offers Aid To Albania, Bulgaria

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (UP) — Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia took the offensive in his cold war with the Cominform yesterday by promising help to any popular uprising against the pro-Soviet communist regimes in neighboring Bulgaria and Albania.

At the same time he warned that neither Russia nor America would be able to divert Yugoslavia from the road to socialism which the country's 16,000,000 inhabitants are following under his command.

An official announcement said Tito's speech was made to 350,000 Macedonians at Skoplje on the fifth anniversary of the founding of the Yugoslav Macedonian republic.

"I think the time will come when the Bulgarian people, ignoring base and shameless slanders, will be able to extend their fraternal hand to us and we will help them remove whatever individuals who have so far put up the obstacles to the creation and preservation of brotherly relations," Tito said.

"The position with Albania is the same."

Tito made a direct attack on Bulgarian communist leaders.

"They cast their eyes on Macedonia but it was counting chickens before they were hatched," he said.

Speaking on his country's economy, Tito said the most difficult years were past. He said the first half of the five-year plan was completed successfully in July.

Hordes of Letters Pour In For Killer

LONDON — (INS) — Dapper John Haigh, Britain's convicted "vampire killer," was reported today setting a record for fan mail.

The London Daily Express said that the 39-year-old businessman, gound guilty of the acid bath slaying of a 69-year-old London widow, is getting between 40 and 50 letters a day, mostly from women.

Masked Quartet Get Gems

Pull Ambush Near Villa

CANNES — (INS)— Four bandits armed with tommyguns halted wealthy Aga Khan and his wife in their automobile near Cannes today and reportedly escaped with jewelry valued at $600,000 to $800,000.

One report said that the bandits fired a shot that punctured two tires and forced the Aga Khan's chauffeur to stop on a road between Nice and Cannes.

An official appraisal of the reported loot was not immediately obtainable.

The daring robbery followed yesterday's hold-up and grab of $310,000 in jewelry by four masked men in a famous jewelry store at Deauville, resort area on the English channel on the opposite side of France.

The Aga Khan, whose son recently married American screen actress Rita Hayworth in a great display of wealth, reported the robbery to police.

French police immediately threw up barriers on the roads leading out of the Cannes-Nice area of the Riviera.

A possible link with the Deauville robbery was seen by police. That occurred near the villa where Rita Hayworth and Ali Khan reportedly are expecting a child.

NO ONE INJURED

The Aga Khan, his wife, maid and chauffeur were reported frightened but uninjured.

The group had left the millionaire's villa, Yakimour, in his black citroen limousine en route to Deauville to visit his son and Rita Hayworth.

Just as the automobile got outside the gate of the villa the way was blocked by four armed men who shot at the tires. The bandits forced the occupants to open the doors and searched them for all valuables.

Once the Aga Khan was able to notify police the road blockades were set up from the southern coast into the interior.

The daylight robbery at Deauville yesterday occurred in the swank Van Cleef and Arpels jewelry store when black-masked men, also carrying tommyguns and machineguns, made off with diamonds and necklaces valued at 100 million francs (about $310,000).

A burst of fire from a machinegun wielded by one of the bandits wearing a fencing mask shattered the window in which costly gems were displayed. A passerby was wounded, and the men escaped in two cars.

Derby Tour Still Open

There's still space for an additional 75 Mansfield coaster race fans on the tour to the national Soap Box Derby finals in Akron Aug. 14, Robert Moore, co-director of the Mansfield Derby, announced today.

Moore said that tickets for the tour are available to parents of Derby competitors for $4.00. This includes ticket to the national coaster finals, round-trip bus ticket and a chicken dinner at the Smithville Inn.

Making the tour with the fans and parents will be the officials and contestants from the eighth Mansfield News - Journal Soap Box Derby. The 150-person party will leave Brandenburg Chevrolet at 8 a. m. Sunday Aug. 14 and return at approximately 9 p. m.

All reservations for the trip must be made by Monday Aug. 6. Youngsters who competed in the 1949 Derby are to report at Brandenburg's Friday between 1 and 4 p. m. to get tickets and instructions for the trip. All officials planning to make the trip should contact Moore at Brandenburg's by Saturday.

Contestants and Officials will be guests of Brandenburg's on the trip.

Mansfield Champion Jimmy Mitchell, of Crestline, will leave Thursday morning Aug. 11 for his four-day trip to the nationals. The 12 - year - old youngster will be guest of the News-Journal during Derby week in Akron.

Staffing Hospital

WOOSTER — (INS) — Plans were being made today for staffing the new $3,300,000 Apple Creek state hospital, despite the fact that controversy still rages over the 750-bed institution.

White-Haired Sage Wrote Verses For His Friends

Death Takes R. H. Sotherland, Poet, Ex-Tire Official

Richard H. Sotherland, whose poems have been highly prized by his friends for many years, died last night at General hospital after a lingering illness. He was 76.

A resident of Mansfield since 1914, Mr. Sotherland was a retired purchasing agent for the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company. He resided at 175 Sturges avenue.

Familiar to many Mansfielders for his erect carriage, snow white hair and beard, Mr. Sotherland made a hobby of writing during his retirement. His works, limited chiefly to poetry, were distributed among his friends. A few were published.

Until his recent illness, he kept active by playing golf regularly at Westbrook Country club with his daughter, Miss Faye Sotherland, who made her home with her father. Miss Sotherland is art instructor at John Simpson junior high school.

Mr. Sotherland was born in Troy, O., on Feb. 13, 1873.

Other surviving children include two sons, Paul of Dayton and Kenneth of Milwaukee, Wis.; two other daughters, Mrs. Raymond Rowlands of Columbus and Mrs. Harold Balyeat, also of Mansfield. Five grandchildren also survive.

Active in fraternal work, Mr. Sotherland was a life member and first exalted ruler of Troy Lodge of Elks; a member of Mansfield Lodge No. 35, Masonic order; Mansfield Council No. 94, RSM and Mansfield chapter No. 28, R.A.M.

Private funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Finefrock funeral home. Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, will officiate and burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Steel Workers' Agent Blasts Pension Plan

NEW YORK —(UP)— An insurance consultant for the United Steel Workers of America (CIO) told President Truman's steel fact-finding board Tuesday that the pension plan of "big steel" is a 'device for creating unemployment among the aged."

Insurance expert Murray W. Latimer, testifying before the three-man board, charged that the plan in effect in the six operating subsidiaries of the U. S. Steel corporation is "not a pension plan but a device for compelling the retirement of men who don't wish to retire but who wish to work."

Latimer said that in a majority of 722 retirement cases studied since July of 1947 "they did not qualify for a single cent of pension under the company plan."

Latimer appeared in support of the union's case for its 30 cent "package" hourly wage increase demand The union proposes that 11.23 cents of the package be deferred for pensions.

Of the 722 U. S. Steel employes whose retirements were reviewed from July, 1947, to April of this year, 637 were compelled to retire at 65. Latimer said 73 of the total number were retired for disability, seven because they felt unable to work, one because of moving from the locality and one for an unknown cause.

Only three cases were listed of persons who retired because they wanted to, Latimer said.

The survey purposed to show that U. S. Steel's pension plan amounted to average monthly payments of less than $6 for those retiring at 65.

U. S. Steel, which produces one-third of the American steel output, is one of more than 60 steel companies which the board has invited to attend hearings. On the basis of facts gathered at the hearings, the board will on Aug. 30 submit to President Truman recommendations for a basis of settling the steel dispute. Under a 60-day truce proposed by the president, the union's new deadline for a nationwide steel strike is Sept. 14.

Latimer told the board that sick employes of the U. S. Steel subsidiaries receive an average of $15.17 a week. He said the figure for Bethlehem Steel averaged $11 52.

MANSFIELD LADY LOST 50 LBS. WITH RENNEL

Mrs. D. A. Hart, 64½ S. Main St, Mansfield, Ohio writes, "Since taking Rennel I have lost 50 lbs. and believe me I can truthfully say I am well pleased. Before losing these extra pounds I was certainly in a rut, as I could hardly do my own house work Now I feel and look younger, enjoy my work and love to take long walks I have just returned from visiting my daughter, who was surprised and pleased at the weight I had lost and the pep I now have."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Rennel.

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

LOU BOUDREAU considers Maurice McDermott, the kid Boston Red Sox lefty, "just about the greatest pitching prospect since Bob Feller." . . . Gus Zernial, the husky Chicago Sox outfielder, has been returned to the active list but will get only pinch-hitting roles for awhile. . . . Gus broke his collarbone May 27 in Cleveland trying for a shoestring catch. . . . At the time he was leading the American league in batting with .355. . . . He's been working out for two weeks but still cannot throw too well. . . . Clint Hodgins, Clandeboye, Ontario, is the leading harness race driver. . . . The Canadian reinsman has won 69 races. . . . Cliff Mapes, Yankee outfielder, was a pitcher, catcher, first baseman and outfielder for Flint in the Michigan State league in 1941.

TOM HENRICH of the Yanks hit four homers with the bases loaded in 1948. . . . That tied the major league record. . . . Frank Frisch, the Chicago Cub field boss, never played minor league baseball. . . . He left Fordham university in 1919 and started playing immediately with the New York Giants. . . . John Lobert was 60 years old when he made his debut as manager of the Phillies in 1942. . . . Sam Jethroe, the Brooklyn farmhand, has stolen 50 bases for Montreal. . . . Bill Tobin, owner-president of the Chicago Blackhawks hockey team, has traveled 900,000 miles in commercial aircraft.

THIS ENGLISH Channel swimming thing shapes up as quite a deal. Training for a try is Dr. G. B. Brewster, who has attempted the crossing 13 times and still hasn't made it. . . . Jack Burwill, veteran Dover swimming trainer, says of America's Shirley May France: "I think the Americans have a winner. I've seen all the Channel swimmers in the past 20 years and Shirley May looks as good as any of them. She's the best (Dover, England,) training here now."

Today a year ago—Mel Patton of Southern California won the 200 meter title in the Olympics

Three years ago — sweeping first places in all 16 events, U. S. defeated Canada, 121-20, in a dual track and field meet at Montreal.

Five years ago — Lem Franklin, 28-year-old Chicago boxer, died in Newark, N. J., 10 days after being knocked out by Larry Lane of Trenton.

Ten years ago — Alice Marble defeated Pauline Betz, national indoor champion, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, in quarter-finals of Maidstone tennis tourhament.

Pete Gets Ace, But It Rates Nothing Special

Pete Zeides, the husky Possum Run par-buster, last night was credited with Mansfield's first hole-in-one of the season — and it didn't even count.

Zeides was playing a practice round with Carl Kushin, warming up for later play in the News-Journal A league, when he scored his ace.

Pete picked the hardest par-three hole on the Possum Run course to turn his trick — the 194-yard tenth hole. He hit a high four iron which lit on the apron and rolled in.

It was the second ace in Pete's golfing career, giving him double honors on a feat many top golfers never achieve.

The ace did not "count" however, as far as all the prizes given by commerical companies are concerned. Zeides was not playing a regular match and had hit several balls off the tee for practice.

Schroeder May Quit Net Game

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. — (AP) — As the 23rd annual eastern states grass courts championships entered its third day of play today, biggest news concerned a star who is not competing.

The announcement yesterday that Ted Schroeder, from La Crescenta, Cal., would not appear and planned to quit tennis after he plays in the Davis Cup matches was the chief topic of discussion.

Seccnd Set Second Set Set Tonight

By CHARLEY STINE

The district softball tournament will play its second session at Gorman-Rupp field tonight with another first round men's game and the girls' semi-finals on the card.

The Shelby Owls and Galion Siclair's Carry-Out will start things off at 7:15 p. m. Then the fair sex will take over with Galion All-Steel meeting Mt. Vernon Cochran - Dalrymple at 8:30 and Marion Smitty's Maids taking on Brucato's Stars of Mansfield at 9:45.

Mansfield lost three representatives as the tourney got under way last night. AVC bowed to Bucyrus Swan Rubber, 6-4; Mansfield Tire lost to Jeromesville Merchants, 5-1, and the Ohio Sport Center girls were eliminated by Galion All-Steel, 11-2.

The Jeromesville team showed itself to be the possible darkhorse of the tournament in clipping the fast Tire combine. The Merchants, one of the two "town" teams in the tournament, hit hard and exhibited plenty of speed and finesse in the field. They received adequate pitching from blond Tom Wise, the team manager.

ALLOWS 3 HITS

Wise, who also hurls for Mansfield Farm Tools, set Tire down with three hits. He walked four men but had stuff in the pinches to strike out seven batters.

Jeromesville will meet Ashland Garber Printing, one of the major powers of the district, at 9:45 p. m. Saturday. Swan Rubber, which won last night's first game, will take on Gorman-Rupp in the second game of the Saturday card.

Mansfield Tire started off in the lead last night as lead-off man Bill Rocco walked, went to second on Trent Snavely's bunt and stole third. An error on a pop fly by Jeromesville Second-Baseman Justin Zehner let him score.

That ended scoring for the Tire nine and a three-run error by Manager Monk Siwek put Jeromesville in the lead in the last half of the inning. Jeromesville lead-off man LeMoyne Paullin singled and was sacrificed to second. Bill Kyler walked and Ron Bowie hit a liner down the right field foul line which Siwek let get away for a "home run."

The other two Mansfield teams—AVC and the Sport Center girls—also lost out by getting off to a bad start. AVC trailed 3-1 at the end of two innings and Sport Center was behind, 10-1 at the same point.

The girls' game was cut to six innings by agreement after Sport Center fell hopelessly behind. The Galion team is composed largely of the Westinghouse girls from Mansfield, who have been playing on both teams all year.

Tomorrow night's card will be: Sons of Herman vs. Perrysville Pottery, Isaly Dairy vs. Mt. Gilead Sid's Cleaners, and Ideal Electric vs. Ohio Locomotive Trains of Bucyrus.

CHAMPS CONVERSE—Three "champions" talk over prospects in the coming News-Journal tennis tournament. Tommy Bloor, (left) two-time junior champ, is shown with Elinor Hattman, defending women's singles champion, and Sam Campbell, who teamed with Lowell Bourns to win the men's doubles in 1948. The shot was taken at the Woodland courts where the N-J tourney will be played this year.

1949 N-J Tennis Tourney May Draw Record Field

Biggest field in history seems assured for the 1949 News-Journal tennis tournament.

Entry list in the tourney has been open for only three days but already the field numbers 21 netters. Last year, 60 Mansfield racket wielders competed in the meet.

Former champions abound among the early entries. Lefty Bob Keefe, two-time singles champ, was the first player in the fold. He will team with last year's singles runner-up, Dr. Andy Zoll, in the doubles this year. Yesterday, Keefe was eliminated in the Northern Ohio tournament at Lakeside by Ralph Haverfield, Columbus, 6-2, 6-3.

Lowell Bourns, oft - times singles and doubles champ; Carol Johns, 1948 junior girls' titleholder; Elinor Hattman, 1948 women's champ; Mary Saprano, former women's queen; Kay Gerhardt, 1948 Mansfield playground girls' winner; Sam Campbell, doubles champ, and Tommy Bloor, former junior champion, were also among the early entrants.

Campbell and Bourns will defend their doubles crown.

Entered by classes are: men's singles—Bourns, Keefe, Bloor, Campbell, Carl Rath, Marvin H. Matusoff, Zoll, Dick Armold, John E. Patrick.

Men's doubles—Bourns-Campbell, Keefe-Zoll, Arnold - Bill Maul, Patrick-Sid Yellen, Jim Morris-Joe Vivian.

Women's singles—Elinor Hattman, Mary Saprano, Vi Hipp, Mary Ettinger, Evelyn Winters.

Women's doubles — Hattman-Ettinger, Saprano-Hipp, Winters-Marilyn Miller.

Junior singles — Courtney Bourns, Morris.

Girls' singles — Johns, Gerhardt.

Entry list closes Aug. 10 at midnight and the tournament opens Aug. 13.

Hole-In-One Meet Opens At Driving Range

A five-week hole-in-one contest will be opened at the Richland Driving Range Friday, it was announced today by Manager Nick Linster.

Linster said a green had been set up approximately 135 yards from the tee and that trophy and merchandise prizes are to go to the winners. Each contestant will hit five balls with the closest one counting as his official score. The nearest ball to the cup hit by each entrant will be measured.

WEEKLY PRIZES

A weekly prize, composed of ten per cent of the entry fee for that period will be set up. The champion of the five-week tournament will be given 25 per cent of the entry fee, runner-up 15 per cent and third place ten per cent. All prizes will be merchandise in order not to damage the amateur standing of participants.

Entry fee will be fifty cents for five balls and golfers may enter as often as they wish. Women may participate and a special prize list will be set up for them if enough take part. A trophy for the overall champion has been donated by Culp Jewelers.

Linster said that participants have the choice of rubber or wooden tees, or of hitting off of sod. The green is composed of sand and will hold roll on the ball to a maximum six or eight feet.

Lead Quarter Final Field

CHICAGO — (AP) — Co-medalists Marlene Bauer of Los Angeles and Barbara McIntire of Toledo topped the field of eight quarter finalists today in the women's western junior golf championship at Onwentsia country club in suburban Lake Forest.

Miss Bauer, 15-year-old favorite, met Jean Rosenstone of Cambridge, Ill., today while Miss McIntire faced Virginia Dennehy of the host club.

In yesterday's first round, Miss Bauer scored a 4-3 win over Marge Whyte of Kenosha, Wis., while Miss McInture defeated Janet McIntosh of Cincinnati by the same margin.

Arrow Flight Blasts Record

FOND DU LAC, Wis. —(AP)— An arrow flight of 719 yards, 2 feet featured record breaking performances yesterday at the 65th National Archery association tournament.

The shot by Paul Berry of Middletown, O., bettered the men's free style mark of 658 yards, 2 feet, 8 inches set by Charles Pierson in 1946.

In the women's free style division Eunice Modlin of Evansville, Ind., hit 575 yards, 2 feet to erase her own record of 564 yards, 6 inches made in 1946.

Four Square 9 Wins Sixth In Church Loop

Four Square Gospel moved into a tie for second place in Church softball league standings last night by whitewashing First Presbyterian, 5-0, at North Lake park

The victory was the sixth for Four Square in eight starts and leaves it a mathematical possibility for tying for the league lead. Park Avenue Baptist now paces the circuit with 6-1 but has a postponed game to play with First Congregational.

A four-way tie is possible as First Congregational has a 5-2 mark and First Methodist a 6-2 record.

Bob Milligan turned in the fine pitching job for Four Square last night, allowing only three hits and not walking a single batter. He struck out 12 men.

Penn Auto Golfers Hold 'A' Loop Lead

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods maintained its stranglehold on the News-Journal A golf league last night as it had the low team medal for the evening and scored 27 out of a possible 40 points.

Arnie Adams, the 20-year-old "baby" of the circuit was the chief reason for the Autos good fortune. Arnie toured the outside nine in one-under-par 35 to rack up 19 points. He won ten from his own number two position, and subbing for Jerry Rosenberg, he tallied nine more. Rosenberg, No. 1 player, is on vacation.

Penn ran its point total to 125 points, 11½ better than the 113½ of Ideal Billiards. Ideal lost ground when Red Dillon, No. 2 man, blew to a 41 and did not score a point.

Only one man—Possum Run club champion, Carl Kushin—tied Adams for medalist honors. Kushin played his first league round in over a month and came in with a 35. Kushin led Komito's Clothing into third place with 111½ points.

Even par figures were turned in by Pete Zeides, Al Hager, Joe Mayer, and Pete Thoma.

Following the top three teams in the standings are: Hall's Shamrock Market, 100½; Myers Supply, 100; Gibson Studebaker, 96; PD's Bar, 95; Blue Goose Tavern, 94½; Lee's Lunch, 88; and Drive-In-Ette, 75.

New Balls were awarded to Jim Musille for an eagle on 11 and Carl Kushin for an eagle on 12.

Five Softball Games Booked In 2 Leagues

Five games, three in the American and a doubleheader in the Recreation league, are on tap in city softball loop play tonight.

Western and Southern Insurance will play Martin Steel at 6 p. m. on the Mansfield Tire diamond and attempt to complete the game in time to play the Old Timers an hour later. The Old Timers lead the Recreation loop.

In the American league, undefeated Disabled American Veterans will go after its third second half triumph against Todd's Jewelry. The game will be played at North Lake park with DAV going into temporary possession of the first placed with a victory.

Sons of Herman will meet Veterans of Foreign Wars at Prospect park, and American Veterans Committee will play the Amvets at Johns.

Farm Tools, tied for the league lead with two victories and no defeats, holds a bye. The toolmen and DAV meet in a crucial test for the loop lead Friday at Liberty park.

Pro Rangers Toss Pigskin In Drill; Majors Sparkles

The Mansfield Rangers filled the air with football in their second practice session last evening at the Tappan field.

Coach Jimmy Lymper had Ralph Majors, Nick Angie and Willis Walker working at the T quarterback position in a 40-minute passing drill. Majors, one of Senior high's finest ball carriers, looked the best of the trio.

Line coach Ed Stacco stressed stance, charging and conditioning. Lymper will be absent today, Thursday and Friday and Owner Danny Markowitz will work with the backs. Lymper will be an instructor at a Cleveland Indians baseball school in Zanesville. Jimmy serves as a Cleveland scout.

Three more players joined the squad yesterday, swelling the roster to 47 players. The new players are: J. H. Johnson, 180, Crestline; Ed Stevenson, 187 and Jim White, 155.

Nine Teams Enter City Golf Joust

First entries in the city best-ball tournament Aug. 14 began to arrive today as the deadline for signing loomed just one week away.

Nine teams have submitted entries thus far and indications are that the field will be much larger than the 67 teams which played in the first event in July. The number of entries in Class B and C particularly are expected to jump.

First entries in the tourney came from Pete Zimmerman and Joe Frisch, a pair of Coolridge Class AA linksmen. Others were from Cid Mathias and Ennis Walker, Carl Laubscher jr., and James K. Schuler, Joe Komjenovich and Tony Taddeo, Carl Schafer and Bob Albers, Tony Linster and Phil Bohland, and Bill Berry and Fred Schnerer.

The top two classes, AA (under 80) and A (80-89); will play their 18 holes at Possum Run while Class B (90-99) and C (100 and over) will tour Coolridge. Prizes will be on a percentage basis according to the number of entries. A total of $125 in merchandise was awarded at the first tournament.

No entries have been received yet for the 36-hole medal play tournament which will be held Aug. 21 and 28.

'Cool' Tribesmen Pick Up Full Game On Yanks

Early Wynn Defeats Old Mates, 8 To 1

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Manager Lou Boudreau says it will be Sept. 15, but Cleveland Indians Coach Bill McKechnie claims it will be sooner.

It could even be four more games if the Tribe continues to hit as they did while swamping the Washington Senators 8 to 1 last night.

First place looks mighty close to the Cleveland Indians these days, even though their won and loss record on the current road trip is a mediocre 4-4.

The gimmick is that the haughty New York Yankees are dropping ball games, lots of ball games. Last night when they took a mauling from the Detroit Tigers, their first place margin was cut to 3½ games.

Should the Yanks continue their tailspin for a few more days, four for instance, the tribe could soar into the lead by taking the two remaining games here and two straight from the Philadelphia Athletics.

A smashing 15-hit attack against Senators' hurlers Mickey Harris and Al Gettel swept the tribe to victory last night.

Dale Mitchell, Joe Gordon, and Bob Kennedy got three hits each. Larry Doby contributed two and every other man in the lineup got at least one except pitcher Early Wynn.

Wynn, who likes his base hits as much as any outfielder, could not be too disappointed in himself, however. He scattered nine Washington safeties to win his ninth contest against only two losses.

ONLY NAT RUN

A double by former tribesman Eddie Robinson and a single by Sam Dente produced the Senators' only run in the second. Although they had runners in scoring position almost every inning, they could not crack through Chubby Early.

With the exception of Gordon's triple, there were no extra base hits in the tribe attack. They put the singles together in such profusion, however, that the runs flowed across the platter.

The tribe scored three in the second on five of the one base blows. Two one basers and Gordon's long triple to left produced two more in the fifth. A walk, a sacrifice, and a single got another in the sixth, and the scoring ended with two runs on three singles in the eighth.

The tribe started east four games out of first, with a .500 record for the trip, they have gained a half game on the Yanks who are slumping even with the inimitable Joe DiMaggio.

Johnny Berardino, who replaced the slumping Ken Keltner at third base, hit a single in three trips, scored two runs and batted in another. He also fielded two chances without mishap.

Boudreau said the lineup would be the same for another night game tonight with Rapid Robert Feller as the probable starting pitcher.

Opposing the Iowa veteran will be young Dick Weik, who recently lost to the St. Louis Browns after hurling a two-hit shutout until the ninth.

Galion Legion Junior Squad Still Unbeaten

Galion's Cinderella representative stood out as one of the three teams still undefeated as the American Legion junior baseball tournament entered its third day at Columbus.

Galion won its second game yesterday by a 5-4 margin over Cleveland Glenville post and still has not used its number one pitcher. Ray Seif, the chief hurler and cleanup hitter is on vacation in Michigan and has not returned as yet.

Pritchard, Galion hurler, allowed the Cleveland team only seven hits and pitched shutout ball for the final three innings. Cleveland scored single runs in the first, third, fourth and sixth innings.

Galion picked up one run in the second frame and clinched the result with four tallies in the sixth.

Cincinnati' Budde post, tournament favorite and one of the three unbeaten clubs, will meet Galion at 2:30 p. m. today. Other games one the card pair Ironton against Cleveland, Lancaster against Lima, Warren against Marion and Akron against Steubenville.

Columbus, the third undefeated club, won over Ironton yesterday, 5-3, while Cincinnati beat Lima, 9-7. Other scores were: Steubenville, 11, Zanesville, 2; Akron, 9, Urbana, 8; Warren, 12, Toledo, 0, and Marion, 17, Lancaster, 5.

Zanesville, Toledo and Urbana suffered their second loss yesterday and bowed out.

Madison 'Gives' Ashland Shutout Win In Ball Loop

The Madison Rams handed Ashland a Central Ohio Junior league victory, 6-0, by a succession of errors last night at Ashland.

After battling to a scoreless tie for three and one half innings, the lid blew off in the last of the fourth when Madison leftfielder Gene Riblet misjudged Wolfe's fly and let it go for a home run.

In the fifth Ashland bunched two hits with five Madison errors to score five runs and sew up the game. The two teams will meet again tomorrow in a regular league game.

Holgate, Somerset Win In Tourney

HOLGATE — Holgate and Somerset won games yesterday in the Ohio semi-professional baseball tournament here.

Somerset was forced to go 10 innings to eliminate the Shelby Blues from the competition, 5 to 4. Shelby was the only Richland county team in the 1949 competition. Mansfield Penn Auto, 1948 champion, did not enter this year's meet.

Holgate defeated Archbold, 12 to 3. Tonight, Cleveland Ruby Carl's play Oakwood and Hamler goes against Jewel.

Biggest Links Tournament Opens Friday

CHICAGO — (AP) — Golf reaches the realm of the fantastic this week with presentation of the Tam O'Shanter $66,200 variety show.

The gold rush starts Friday and continues merrily for 10 days.

In addition to being the world's richest golf outing, it is the longest, has the biggest field (about 500) and, without a doubt, is the screwiest.

Any golfer who can hear the tinkle of a dime during a stampede of longhorns will be there. That includes all of them —Sam Snead, newly crowned western open champion; Cary Middlecoff, national open winner; Lloyd Mangrum, who cashed in for some $25,000 by taking everything but the doorknobs at Tam last year; Skip Alexander, Dutch Harrison, Bob Hamilton, Jimmy Demaret — the whole shooting match, in fact. All, that is, but South African Bobby Locke, the 1947 Tam winner who has been expelled by the U.S. PGA for tournament contract breaking.

The Tam, which has been a confusion of golfing traffic in the past, will be more so this time. Promoter George S. May, club president and former Bible salesman, has a new package deal for his estimated average of 15,000 daily customers.

He offers seven tournaments in one.

Reach Finals In Net Meet

Eight matches in the junior divisions of the Woodland club tennis tournament were played yesterday.

Pudge Henkel and Jerry Mollica reached the finals in the boys' (15 and under) division. Henkel defeated Mike Lusignan, 6-1, 6-1 and Mollica won over Courtney Bourns, 6-3, 6-3. Finals will be played Sunday at 2 p. m.

Quarter-finals in the boys' singles were played in the morning. Henkel won over Dave Bourns, 6-1, 6-2; Lusignan outlasted Tommy Ross, 8-6, 4-6, 6-2; Mollica defeated Tommy Bates, 6-0, 6-0 and Bourns beat Kenny Haring, 6-1, 8-6. Twenty-two boys made up the original field.

In the junior (18 and under) singles, Ralph Sorenson eliminated Allen Meilinger, 6-1, 6-1 and Lewis Mollica won over Orio Smith; 6-4, 7-5.

Dashing Detroit Tigers Coming On Fast; Newhouser Takes Yankees Apart, 10-2

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Watch out, New York! Shove over, Cleveland, Boston. Make room for another claimant to the American league throne—the dashing Detroit Tigers.

A week ago, the odds manipulators had written off the pennant chances of the Tigers. A three-team race it was, they said. Today, these same oddsmakers are issuing a new line with Detroit given a chance to cop, albeit a slim one.

They enhanced their chances considerably last night when they turned back the Yankees, 10-2, in the league leaders' backyard.

The victory gave the fourth place Bengals a record of 13 triumphs in their last 18 games, a much faster gait than that of the Yankees, runner-up Indians or third place Red Sox. It moved them within seven and a half games of the top.

Hal Newhouser, who had failed in six straight July attempts to notch his 11th victory, finally made it with a 10-hit performance against the Yankees.

The Tigers backed Newhouser's pitching with a 14-hit attack which blasted Allie Reynolds from the hill.

Four of the blows went for the distance. The homer hitters were Dick Wakefield, Vic Wertz, Aaron Robinson and Johnny Lipon.

The Indians whipped weary Washington, 8-1.

The Red Sox tallied once in the last half of the ninth to eke out a 4-3 win over the St. Louis Browns. Dom DiMaggio singled to open the frame, got around to third, and scored the deciding run when Vern Stephens rolled down the first base line while trying to duck a pitch by Ned Garver. The hit extended DiMag's consecutive hitting streak through 29 games.

The Philadelphia Athletics ended a three-game losing streak and a 27-inning scoreless drought, defeating the Chicago White Sox, 5-2. They tallied in the first inning. Carl Scheib went the route for his sixth victory.

The St. Louis Cardinals retained their half game advantage over Brooklyn in the National league race, coming from behind to defeat the Boston Braves, 7-2. Red Munger pitched a five-hitter for his 10th victory.

The Brooklyn Dodgers downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-2, behind the five-hit pitching of Rex Barney. Gil Hodges hit a home run and double to drive in three Dodger runs.

The Cincinnati Reds exploded with 15 hits to swamp the Philadelphia Phils, 11-3.

In the only afternoon contest, the New York Giants shut out the Chicago Cubs, 3-0, for their fifth consecutive victory. Sheldon Jones pitched a three-hitter for his ninth success.

Fritz Vogel Hurls Shutout To Cinch Tie For Westies

Westinghouse clinched at least a tie for the second half championship of the National Softball league last night when it steamrollered 164th Fighter Squadron, 10-0, at Prospect park.

The victory was the fifth straight for Westinghouse and was the Flyers' first defeat in second-half play. Both 164th and D. & M. Cigar, which have 2-4 records, can tie Westinghouse by winning all their games, providing the leaders lose their last contest. One more win for Westinghouse and the race is over.

Office Cafe won the first half title.

Fritz Vogel pitched the victory yesterday, allowing only four hits and striking out eight batters. The winners got only seven hits, but took advantage of five 164th errors.

One other game was played in the league, Ideal Electric walloping Lumbermens, 13-8. Ideal trailed 5-4 after four innings of play, but came from behind to score seven times in the fifth frame.

Lusty Song Smashes Mile Harness Mark

WESTBURY, N. Y. — (AP) — File away as a probable 1949 Hambletonian contender the name of Lusty Song.

This two-year-old trotting star ripped off the best mile mark of the year by a juvenile last night in winning the $10,000 Dean Hanover trot at Roosevelt raceway. The time for the Grand Circuit feature was 2:06 3-5.

Bearded Hurler Wins For Lima

(By Associated Press)

A full-bearded pitcher, who recently quit the famed House of David team and joined the Lima Chiefs, stole the show last night in the Ohio-Indiana league by holding the Richmond Robins to four hits as Lima won, 10 to 1.

Cliff Serbin, in his first appearance for the chiefs, struck out seven and walked six. The 22-year-old righthander from New York city joined Lima Sunday. He won 14 and lost 18 with the House of David team this year.

American Track Squad In Romp

HELSINKI, Finland, — (AP) — Touring American athletes had a one-sided triumph over Finland today added to their list of conquests.

A two-day dual meet ended yesterday with the U. S. track and field stars victorious in 11 of 16 events.

Craig Dixon of Los Angeles won two events. He took the 100 meter dash in 10.7 seconds and the 110 meter high hurdles in 14.3.

LEGAL NOTICE

Alice Maguire Neel, an incompetent, by the guardian of her estate, Florence L. Frye, 138 East First Street, Mansfield, Ohio, plaintiff, vs. James Conway Sr., et al., defendants. Cause No. 31345.

Earl Neel, Albert Neel, Eleanor Neel and Josephine Neel, whose places of residence are unknown.

You will take notice that on the 13th day of July, 1949, Alice Maguire Neel, an incompetent, by Florence L. Frye, guardian of her estate, filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Richland County, Ohio, her petition against you praying for partition and for such other relief as is just and proper in and of the following described real and personal property:

REAL PROPERTY

Situated in the County of Richland, State of Ohio, and City of Mansfield, and being a part of Lot Number Three Thousand and Twenty Three (3023) of the consecutive numbers of lots in said city of Mansfield, and more particularly described as follows: Beginning for the same at the northeast corner of said lot; thence, south on the east line of said lot 100 feet; thence, west and parallel with the north line of said lot 24½ feet; thence, north and parallel with the east line of said lot to the north line of said lot 100 feet; thence, east on the north line of said lot 24½ feet to the place of beginning.

The above described real estate is subject to the right to an easement in the use of the walk to the west of said building part of which is on the land now owned by Rolla A. Hoffman, as recorded in deed record Volume 274, Page 67, and in which reservation is therein contained for the benefit of the grantee herein, for the use of said walk now located between said houses.

PERSONAL PROPERTY

One frigidaire, one range, one radio, several heating stoves, beds and other furniture and household goods.

You are required to answer by the 17th day of September, 1949, and set up your interest in and to the above mentioned real and personal property or said petition will be taken as true and judgment rendered accordingly.

FLORENCE L. FRYE, Guardian.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

Whitey's icehouse comes close to being as cool as a nice long drink of you know what!
Every twice a week in the summertime us Wilkens have a little job we don't kick up any fuss about at all. And that's stopping by at Whitey's for the ice. It's my brother, William hosing off a cake—and me just dawdling over the job and letting shivers run up me. Our dog Jessie's tongue was out about a foot till Tom fed her a chunk of ice.
Harry E. Wilken
ICE
THE WILKEN FAMILY

On a hot day, a frosty drink made with Our Family's Recipe sure goes good!

When a drink is so extra tasty and refreshing, it takes care of your thirst like nothing else!

If there's any time in all the year when a long, cooling drink made with Our Family's Whiskey goes good, it's on a roasting hot day! The way it slithers down your throat so nice and easy—it feels as smooth as a hunk of ice. And so far as tastiness goes, folks say by golly they never tasted anything that comes near to being so tasty.

And when you come down to it—this Recipe of ours couldn't scarcely help but be about the tastiest you ever touched your lips to. Do you know how many years us Wilkens have been busying ourselves at making whiskey? Some sixty years or thereabouts to be exact. And in sixty years, Grandpa Wilken, Pa Wilken and us three were just bound to get the hang of putting a heap of tastiness into Our Recipe.

But don't you go and get it into your head you're going to have to plunk down a lot of extra cash for this extra tastiness. No sir. Just take a look over by our bottle there, and note the price. O. K.?

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Galion Council Won't Approve Budget Until Further Study

Group Plans To Consult City Auditor

1950 Expenditures Slightly Lower

GALION — Council met last evening and during the session refused to approve the 1950 budget which was given reading. The budget was slightly less than the 1949 budget.

Reasoning that they wish to consult with City Auditor Gloyd A. Frye and had not had an opportunity to study the budget in advance, the council refused to approve the measure.

The 1950 expenditures covering general administrative expenses was estimated at $129,791, slightly less than the 1949 estimate of expenditures, $130,951.58. Total 1950 receipts was estimated at $129,645.56. Receipts for 1949 were estimated at $121,172.

Dr. O. R. Kackley, city health commissioner, was the writer of a letter read to council requesting $300 to pay the salary of Sanitary Inspector John P. Drouth for the last half of 1949. Droth's salary was $600 per year, however, his appropriation was cut in half in January.

Mayor H. H. Hartmann gave his report to council and announced receipt of $697.70 in fines, costs and forfeitures during the month of July.

Council also refused to pass an ordinance which would pay the Allis-Chalmers company, makers of electrical equipment, $1470 for repairs made on the 2,500 kilowatt exciter at the Municipal Light and Power plant a year ago. Council refused passage on the grounds the price was exorbitant in view of the nature of the work.

2 Galionites Sent To Jail

BUCYRUS — Two Galion residents are serving sentences in the Crawford county jail here, Sheriff Ralph Schreck reported today.

Lloyd Foust, 32, of 911 Charles street, is serving a 30-day sentence following his arraignment last Friday before Mayor H. H. Hartmann in Galion on a petty larceny charge involving the theft of a used tire. He also was fined $50 and costs.

Foust also faced a second charge of drunk and disorderly conduct and was given a $10 fine and a 20-day jail sentence by the Galion mayor. The latter fine and sentence was suspended provided that he remain out of Galion until next January.

Ernest McCarty, 34, 315 East Atwood street, was sentenced to five days at his arraignment on a drunk and disorderly charge before Justice of Peace Robert Brown here. He was arrested Sunday by sheriff's deputies following an argument in a Galion cafe.

Police Board Post Filled In Crestline

Council Approves Purchase of Helmets

CRESTLINE — Mayor A. P. Sonner yesterday appointed Wilbur Emmer to fill the vacancy on the police pension board.

At this week's council meeting Fire Chief R. H. Saum was authorized to purchase 10 safety helmets for firemen. Property owners on the east end of Bauer avenue presented a petition asking for a sewer.

Clerk Marie Schill was instructed by council to write Gerald P. Hayman, of East Main street, to construct sidewalk in front of his gas and repair station.

Curb and gutters are to be placed on Diamond street, between Seltzer and Thoman streets. Property owners in the area signed petitions assuring the installation. A lengthy discussion on sewers was held but no action was taken. The pay ordinance, amounting to $1,931.63, was allowed.

Bucyrus Council Unit OKs Lights

BUCYRUS — Recommendations by the city traffic commission that traffic lights be installed at two intersections were turned over to council's utilities committee at regular meeting of council Tuesday night.

The commission recommended lights be erected at Spring and Mansfield streets on Route 30-N and Poplar and Warren streets. Requests for traffic lights at Southern and Sandusky avenues, Marion road and Southern avenue, and Mansfield and Highland avenues were rejected by the commission.

Fifteen-minute parking in front of the post office from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. also was recommended by the commission.

9,701 Given Chest X-Rays In Ashland

ASHLAND — A total of 9,701 Ashland county adults received free chest X-rays in the three-week period during which two mobile X-ray units from the state department of health furnished facilities for the free X-rays, Dr. C. B. Meuser, Ashland county-city health commissioner announced today.

The total was short only 299 of the 10,000 goal set by Dr. Meuser at the beginning of the X-ray period. Dr. Meuser and the county tuberculosis and health association staged the mass X-ray program as an attack on tuberculosis within the county.

Free finger blood tests for diabetes and anemia were given to 1,350 Ashland countians during the same period. These tests were for all persons over 40 years of age.

4-H Clubbers Plan To Paint Mail Boxes

LITTLE WASHINGTON — Members of the Busy Workers 4-H club will meet here at 9 p. m. Aug. 16 to paint mail boxes.

Plans for the project were made at a meeting of the club Monday night at the home of Miss Maxine Donough. This meeting was the last one for the summer. Sessions will be resumed with the opening of school in the fall.

New School Levy Sought In Crestline

4-Year Period Renewal Proposed

CRESTLINE — The board of education this week voted to ask local voters to renew the school levy at the November election.

One levy, for three mills, that was passed five years ago, expires this year. Another levy, for a two-year period, expires in 1950. The board will ask for voters to approve the new school levy for a four-year period.

School bus insurance was awarded to F. J. Crowell, L. F. Waldbauer, Paul Winemiller and George Beck. The public liability and property damage was awarded to the first three named and the comprehensive insurance was awarded to Beck.

This week's meeting was held in the office of the school superintendent.

Ohio Bell Biggest Owner of Local Phone Company Stock

They said the commission would make a complete investigation of the application for a rate increase, but welcomed a city hired man to work with the commission's investigators.

All of the records will be open to a city employe, they stated. Such a man could work with the commission men at the telephone company's offices and would have access to all of records pertaining to the case now in the possession of the PUCO, they stated.

A PUCO accountant, Ralph Gust, is now going over the telephone company's books and several members of the engineering staff are checking on the valuation of the company's property, the officials said.

The PUCO investigation will be completed in from one one to two months, they stated.

A public hearing on the application will be held about the first of November, it was estimated by PUCO officials.

Meanwhile city officials said they would proceed with plans to hire a rate expert.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch set next Monday as a tentative date for a meeting with council's utilities committee to draft legislation to authorize hiring the rate man.

Utilities Committee Chairman Nelson Swihart said a special council meeting would probably be called for next Wednesday to act on the legislation.

Representing the city at the meeting in Columbus yesterday were Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison, City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch and Councilmen Nelson Swihart and Harry M. Bowman.

Rules On Legality of Slot Machine Raids

Judge Says Department Acts 'OK'

Raps Holding Permits In Escrow

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Even though a liquor establishment is closed to the public, agents may raid the premises and seize gambling equipment, a judge ruled here yesterday.

Judge Cecil J. Randall of Franklin county Common Pleas Court upheld the state liquor department in a suit.

But Judge Randall criticized the liquor department's long standing practice of holding liquor permits in escrow.

The practice involves the permit holder's "surrendering" his license voluntarily to the liquor department for an indefinite period, during which he agrees not to sell liquor on his premises.

Normally, this is done after fire destroys a permit holder's place of business, he discontinues business, becomes seriously ill, or for other reasons.

In attacking the practice, Judge Randall called it "an unwarranted legislative action beyond the power of the (liquor) director. He said there was "no such thing as an escrow agreement mentioned in the Liquor Control act or in any rule of the liquor board.

Clarence J. Kuhns, owner of the Idle Hour club in Dayton, filed the suit against the department. He protested seizure of slot machines at his place of business on Feb. 12 while the club was closed to the public. His license, at that time, was being held by the liquor department.

In upholding the liquor department's seizure of the slot machines, Judge Randall said liquor inspectors had the right to inspect the club "as if business was being carried on."

Liquor Director Oscar L. Fleckner said he would study "very carefully" the decision. He also said an opinion may be sought from the attorney general as to the application of the ruling "to revised procedures which have been under consideration."

Fleckner said shortly after he and his subordinates moved into the liquor department in January they "quickly recognized that escrowing as it has been practiced many years in the past should not be continued.

The director said the department has a policy of accepting permits for safe keeping only when the permit holder is required to abandon operations due to conditions beyond his control.

These include such things as fire destroying the premises, serious illness and cancellation of lease, he added.

Local Polio Chapter Requires No Extra Funds, Moore Avers

Although the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has advanced more than $3,000,000 to chapters in 40 states to fight the current polio epidemic. Richland county will not need any extra funds, unless the epidemic should reach major proportions here.

Marshall More, chairman of the Richland chapter said today that local funds are by no means depleted. This is due partly to the fact that only one case has been reported here up to Aug. 2 and partly to the chapter's refusal to use money for the purchase of an iron lung, as so many Ohio chapters have done, Moore said.

"Mansfield is in better shape as far as money for polio victims is concerned than most Ohio cities," Moore said. "We handle our situation here a little differently from most chapters. When we have a polio suspect, we contact the health commissioner, Dr. Harry Wain and he makes arrangements to have the patient taken either to Columbus or Cleveland for diagnosis. If the patient has polio then he remains there to be treated."

Funds contributed in Mansfield and Richland county for this purpose pay for treatment of any patient unable to assume the financial responsibility. Sometimes it's only partial payment and often, the chapter assumes the entire bill.

Three Promotions Are Revealed By Ohio Brass

The Ohio Brass company today announced three changes in its organization.

Merrill W. Manz has been designated vice president; Roger A. Black has been appointed general factory manager; and H. E. Shoemaker, manager of the foreign trade department.

Manz came with the company in 1920 as a development engineer in the Mansfield plant. In 1922 he was transferred to the Barberton plant, returning to Mansfield at the end of 1923 as director of development. He then served as manager, steam road sales, 1925-27; manager, Canadian Ohio Brass company, 1927-31; and factory manager, Barberton plant, 1931-35.

In May, 1935, he returned to Mansfield as general factory manager and has held that position until his present designation as vice president. He lives at 458 Russell road.

Black joined the company in 1930. After spending time in both the Barberton and Mansfield factories he came into the sales department and he was sent to the New York office in the fall of 1931. He returned to Mansfield as a member of the foreign trade department and has served as manager of that department since August, 1932.

During World War II, in addition to his foreign trade duties, he was manager of the special products division which handled the large volume of ammunition components and other items which were produced for the ordnance department of the U. S. Army. He resides on Marion avenue road.

Shoemaker started in 1934 as a sales correspondent in the power utilities department. He moved into the foreign trade department in 1935. He was called into active service in 1942 as a 1st lieutenant. He was promoted regularly, and when he was discharged in February, 1946 as a lieutenant colonel he was serving as executive officer, personnel division ordnance department.

Since his return from military duty he has occupied the position of assistant manager, foreign trade department. Shoemaker recides at 189 Bartley avenue.

U. S. Spurns Red Charges

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The United States Tuesday rejected as "utterly without foundation" charges by Russia that Italy's participation in the North Atlantic pact is a violation of its peace treaty.

The rejection was contained in a note delivered to the Soviet embassy. The Russian protest was given the state department in July 19.

The Russian note had charged that the alliance would permit Italy to increase her armaments beyond the level provided for her own defense in the peace treaty.

In the U. S. reply, Secretary of State Acheson pointed out that he previously stated that "any contribution which Italy makes to the collective capacity for defense of the North Atlantic area must be within the military provisions of the Italian peace treaty."

Mansfield Not Heavy Polio Area

Cleanliness Called Best Protection

With the reporting of Mansfield's first polio case this year Dr. Harry Wain, city - county health commissioner, offered the following recommendations to Mansfielders for the prevention of the disease.

Practicing cleanliness is one of the main points in Dr. Wain's program. He advised washing hands before eating, before handling food, and after going to the toilet.

Parents must teach children not to exchange bites of candy, not put dirty hands or objects into their mouths. Flies and other insects must be kept away from food. Garbage is not to be left uncovered. He said "good personal health habits help prevent disease from spreading."

Mansfield's first 1949 polio victim is Mrs. Leta McKinley, 195 West Fourth street whose case was reported yesterday.

Dr. Wain said, however, "Mansfield is not a heavy polio area according to past records." There were four cases last year. The peak year since 1924 was in 1927, the only year the disease reached epidemic proportions here. There were 11 cases that year. An area is considered epidemic when there are two cases per 1,000 population, he said. In 1929 there were five cases, in 1947 six.

Dr. Wain said the polio season is the last two weeks in August and the first two in September.

Polio brings a heavy financial drain on the population because of the large expense of treating the disease. Dr. Wain praised the work of the local infantile paralysis foundation in aiding the stricken.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1949

Seen as a great need is a college stadium with all seats on the 50-yard line—as demanded by football fans.

Claude Callan concludes: "Of course the tax eaters must be provided for, even if the poor must be neglected."

Some regret is expressed that the Brannan farm income plan didn't reach the stage of being designated as a "noble experiment."

Senator's Remunerative Sideline

MAYBE it's all right for Senator Styles Bridges, of New Hampshire, to be pulling down $35,000 a year as "neutral" among the three directors of that United Mine Workers' retirement and health fund, in addition to his $15,000 a year salary as United States senator. Maybe it's all right—but it doesn't seem so.

It appears that Ezra Van Horn, of Cleveland, operators' representative in directing the miners' retirement fund, also draws $35,000 a year for that service, but it is the case of Senator Bridges that is attracting most attention, for the reason that his senatorial job is supposed to be full time and the idea of his taking $35,000 a year for some outside job is just "one of those things" that strengthen the case for persons who argue that they are also entitled to "easy money."

It seems noteworthy that John L. Lewis, who represents the miners in directing the retirement fund, has never taken the $35,000 a year compensation, as he receives $50,000 a year salary from the union.

As the retirement fund has passed the $90,000,000 mark, acquired by a levy of 20 cents on every ton of coal mined, it can be seen that capable supervision is necessary, but it is the thought of many that in such a humanitarian activity some of those who have other sources of ample income should be willing to serve without compensation when called upon for some helpful service, but a more prevalent idea is to "get while the getting is good."

Bookie Joint Has Moved, So What!

JUST WHAT sort of hook-up there is between Mansfield law enforcement officials and the protected operators of local illegal gambling places has thus far been kept a close secret—despite the bandying about of rumors that Mayor Vaughn and Chief of Police Schwab merely act under orders of some "higher-up."

It is quite probable that a thorough-going grand jury investigation of the commercialized gambling situation here would serve to disclose some of the concealed facts, but with continuance of a lethargic public attitude, nothing of this sort seems likely.

In other Ohio cities, however, there is considerable evidence of a clamp-down on bookie joints, numbers rackets and other forms of illegal gambling which drain needed money from many easy marks, to the enrichment of operators.

This subject is made particularly timely by yesterday's News-Journal mention of a change in location of Mansfield's protected horse race bookie—an openly operated gambling place which is in direct violation of law, but about which nothing is done by officials being paid to enforce laws, without authority to decide which laws should be enforced and which ignored.

Uncle Sam In Wheat Business

THE United States government is offering wheat for export sale at about 50 cents less than the going price at domestic markets, according to an announcement from Washington.

The wheat it is offering comes from stocks which have been bought by the Commodity Credit Corporation to support the price of wheat. The grain is being offered for export at the price fixed in a recent international wheat agreement, to which the United States is a party.

It was indicated the government might also make it possible for commercial concerns to export wheat bought on the American market, by paying to them a subsidy to cover the loss of approximately 50 cents a bushel.

Any explanation is likely to resemble the old joke about the sidewalk merchant who was buying apples for five cents each and selling them for three. He said he could afford to sell at a loss because he did such a large volume of business.

The government will be in a similar position if it fulfills the United States wheat export quota of 168 million bushels under the international agreement. At present prices the loss on the transaction would be 84 million dollars.

Era of Superhighways Nearing

THE BEGINNINGS are visible of what some day will probably be a complete network of high speed superhighways criss-crossing the nation.

The trouble with these express roads is that too many tourists will use them. High speed roads are fine for getting from one point to another, but tourists already speed along them so fast they hardly know where they've been or what it looks like. Touring used to be for seeing the country, getting acquainted with new territory and the people who inhabit it. The object of the superhighway seems to be to get from New York to San Francisco without passing through any intermediate points.

On second thought, the network of super-roads could help the situation. They could take care of all the people who just want to get from one place to another, leaving tourists to wander peacefully along the lesser roads, no longer needing to hustle to keep out of the way of other traffic.

In optimistic tone a Philadelphia bank explains that the current recession is "orderly and for the most part beneficial"—which will be cheerful tidings for those who are on unemployment lists.

It now seems almost unbelievable, but it was only a few years ago that it was a remarkable happening to find a package of cigarets for sale. Remember?

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

WHETHER for or against military aid to Europe, anyone interested in sound government ought to be shocked at the terms of President Truman's bill designed to arm the world against Russia. It proposes to give him unlimited authority to give arms to any government in the world which he wishes to strengthen. It is not confined to Atlantic Pact countries. The new bill gives the President the right to give away any government property if he says it is surplus and since no appropriations are necessary, this power seems to be without limit. It even includes naval vessels. It is not clear whether even atom bombs are expected from the President's give-away powers. The bill proposes cash authorization for $1,450,000,000 but it admits that another half billion of material may be given away without appropriation.

Think of the tremendous power which this proposal gives the President to involve us in any war throughout the world, including civil wars where we may favor one faction against another! No individual ought to have such power, certainly not Mr. Truman or his secretary of state.

I am opposed to the whole idea of giving the President power to arm the world against Russia or anyone else, or even to arm Western Europe, except where there is a real threat of aggression. We are stimulating an armament race. We are trying to restore a military balance of power on the European continent. Such policies in the past have always led to war rather than to peace.

* * *

FURTHERMORE, as a deterrent to war, the plan seems to me most ineffective. It is said that at least 60 Divisions are necessary to enable Western Europe to defend itself against Russia, and the cost of modern divisions of that type would be at least $20 billion.

Russia has been deterred from military aggression by the strength of the American armed forces and particularly by our air force with its atomic bombs. The Russians are not going to be any more deterred by the transfer of a lot of obsolete equipment and a small fraction of the aid necessary for really effective armies in Western Europe.

We are proposing to give these arms to a dozen different countries. Of course after each country gets its share we have no control, and we don't know how they may be used. The governments may turn communist or fascist. They may aid Russia instead of fighting against it. Russia may capture the arms before we get there.

We are already giving Europe $5 billion a year to rebuild her economic strength. And as the state department admits "Military strength cannot be effective or lasting unless it rests on the foundations of economic health and stability."

* * *

JUST as the economic health of Europe is essential in the battle against communism, so, in particularly, is sound prosperity in the U. S. Facing a deficit of $3-$5 billion next year, should we start now on a vast new spending project which may extend itself to the Near East, the Far East and to South America? The limits to the cost of this militarism cannot be foreseen.

In general, I feel that if we have the money to spend, when we do not, it is more effective as a deterrent to war if we strengthen our own American military forces. I would favor sending arms to a country when it can be shown that the country is really threatened by Russian military aggression. On the basis of this conviction I voted for military assistance to Greece and Turkey, and I would vote for like aid to China.

But the scatter-gun blank-check approach of arming anybody in the world of whom the President may approve seems to me the best calculated method of producing a bankrupt American economy and the tragedy of a third world war.

Frankly Speaking

Doom and Salvation

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The United States is like a man searching for a door marked "Doom" and another marked "Salvation."

This is the picture given by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) in a 200-page report on its work.

Every six months the AEC has to make such a report to Congress on its progress. The latest came out Monday.

This first few pages are given over to the atomic bomb. Because this is secret stuff, you couldn't learn much with a microscope.

The story of the AEC's search for bigger and better bombs that would spell doom where they fall is stated almost dryly. It says: "New and more effective atomic weapons which were tested at Eniwetok in 1948 are in production."

Not much more than that. It was merely saying the AEC has gone far beyond the deadliness of the primitive bomb that smashed Hiroshima and is making far more awful ones now.

But much of the report is like stepping into a world of sunlight and magicians.

Here the AEC tells the story of what's being done to use the atom in searching for a richer and better life for mankind.

It's a story of scientists, all kinds of scientists, plugging away in laboratories all over America searching, searching.

There's a little section which says:

"Studying bloods in a bat's wing. . . at Argonne (a laboratory at Chicago); scientists studied the effects of radiation on circulation of blood in the wing of a small bat. . .

"They found that after the bat was exposed to radiation the circulation of the blood slowed down, largely because broken cells and other organic debris clogged the capillary vessels."

They are trying to find out whether animals can build up resistance to radiation. If they find out, it will help humans.

And there's this.

"At Union college, some 1,400 mice have been used to study the effects upon growth of life, and blood, by irradiation with an . . . X-ray."

And at the "University of Denver. . .radioactive material is applied directly to the six glands of rats to give information on the amounts that affect the reproductive system enought to cause noticeable changes in the physical characteristics of offspring."

There is a little section called "Benefits From Atomic Energy" and in part it says:

"Radiation that destroys the cells of cancer is one of the few effective means of controlling some forms of the disease. . . Scientists have used radioiodine to treat people with an overactive thyroid gland, or with cancer of the thyroid. . .

"Surgeons have used radiophosphorous to locate brain tumors accurately during a dozen or more successful operations. . .

"Physicians have had time to test only a few radioisotopes in the diagnosis and treatment of disease. They are broadening their efforts month by month, improving their techniques and working toward a wider understanding of radioisotopes and their uses.

"In laboratory research, radioisotopes are proving of even greater value. As 'tracers' they are helping scientists to understand life processes and mechanisms which have been only partly understood for lack of such a key to unlock their secrets."

The items listed here were picked at random from among many. It's a rich book.

As Cerf Tells It

In June, 1930, a Cleveland pigeon-fancier named Wellman entered his prize homing pigeon in a hundred-mile race. The reason this item belongs in the "current news" department is that the pigeon came back home in 1949.

Truman Remembers How To Drive Auto

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Newspapers carried a little note about President Truman driving his own car to Leesburg, Va., the other day, but there was no other explanation of why he went here. Here is the reason why:

Some weeks ago, Sen. Cabot Lodge, Massachusetts Republican, was visiting Gen. George Marshall at Leesburg, when the ex-secretary of state showed him the grave of Col. Edward D. Baker, former U. S. Senator from Oregon, killed in action during the Civil war.

The stone marker was covered with moss. Vines and vegetation had grown up over the spot, and General Marshall remarked to the senator from Massachusetts that it was a shame a senator from Oregon who had fought so gallantly should be so ungallantly remembered.

Later, General Marshall reported this to President Truman, and some days later, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon got a message from the President telling him that a former Oregon Senator lay unremembered at Leesburg, and suggesting that they both visit the grave.

Morse accepted. But before leaving, he sent over to the library of Congress to find out more about Colonel Baker. The library reported that he was killed at Ball's Bluff, Va., but buried at Lone Mountain cemetery, San Francisco. Furthermore, the late justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who was wounded in the same battle, described in one of his books how Senator Baker's body was carried back to the west coast—at that time an unheard-of trip for a war casualty.

Truman As a Chauffeur.

SENATOR MORSE, however, had no opportunity to break this news to President Truman until the two go in the White House car—a Lincoln—for their drive to Leesburg.

Their first conversation was about the fact that the President was driving himself, the senator discreetly inquiring when the President had last driven. Mr. Truman admitted he hadn't driven for a couple of years, but said he still remembered how.

As the trip continued, it was evident that whatever the President lacked in skill as a chauffeur, he made up for in zestful driving. With the secret service men sitting nervously in the rear, the President enjoyed every minute of it.

Finally, Senator Morse broke the news.

"I looked up Senator Baker of Oregon," he said, "and the Library of Congress informs me that while he was shot at Ball's Bluff, he was buried at San Francisco."

The presidential car nearly swerved off the road.

Recovering, Mr. Truman said that General Marshall would feel bad about bringing them all the way to Leesburg for nothing. "We mustn't hurt his feelings," he added. "You leave this to me!"

So, after lunch, as General Marshall escorted the party three miles away to the supposed grave of Senator Baker, Mr. Truman broke the news that he wasn't buried there after all. General Marshall wasn't entirely convinced, however, and led them to the grave.

There they found that the Library of Congress was right. The tombstone was merely a marker stating that "Col. Baker Was Killed Here, Oct. 21, 1861."

There was no indication that he was buried there. In fact, the bodies of 54 other federal soldiers had been removed to a near-by grave.

General Marshall felt bad about bringing the President and Senator Morse down to Leesburg on a wild-goose chase, but they didn't feel that way at all. They were delighted to have the excuse to get away from Washington, and they arranged to have a gardener tidy up the spot where Colonel Baker fell. No new monument, they agreed, was necessary.

Note—Senator Baker, born in England, served in the House of Representatives from Illinois, then moved to Oregon about the time of the gold rush and was elected to the U. S. Senate from Oregon in 1859. He enlisted in the 71st Pennsylvania Volunteers and was temporarily commissioned a Major General.

Secret Cocktail Lounge.

THE STORY has never been told how the Democrats discovered a secret cocktail lounge in the Capitol building after they took over from the Republicans.

The lounge was fixed up by ex-Senator Curly Brooks of Illinois and his political protege, ex-sergeant-at-arms Edward McGinnis, in one of the historic rooms of the Capitol where the Supreme Court first met. They cleared out the stately, historic furnishings and turned it into a gay-colored cocktail lounge, incongruous and out of place in the Capitol.

How much it cost the taxpayers to paint, decorate, and furnish Brooks' private lounge will probably never be known. It was simple for the ex-senator from Illinois to keep this secret since he was chairman of the Senate rules committee and in charge of the Senate wing of the Capitol.

But when Brooks was defeated last November, Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona, the new rules chairman, inherited all his keys. That's how the Democrats discovered the secret lounge.

Telephoning Senator Scott Lucas, majority leader of the Senate, Hayden said: "I have a surprise for you."

Later he took Lucas to the hideaway, unlocked the door, and announced:

"Look what I have discovered! I don't want to get caught with a room like this on my hands, so I'm turning it over to you, it's only poetic justice that you should get it."

Assignment: America

That Dreadful New York

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Lucius Beebe, once the grand boulevardier of New York, is in town these days waving aloft his final citizenship papers from the sovereign state of Nevada.

To add insult to injury, Mr. Beebe, spiritual descendant of Louis XIV, the sun king, and the country's leading (by ten laps at the turn) Sybarite, is speaking of his former home town in the harsh terms usually employed by visiting British authors.

"I wouldn't live here if you gave me the place," declared Mr. Beebe amid the luxuries of the Colony restaurant, as he twirled a handsome gold tooth pick obtained in Virginia City, Nev., of which he is now a legal resident.

"Faw!" snorted Mr. Beebe, the only man alive who is able to employ this word with sense and feeling. "And again faw! New York in these latter days is merely an outpost of Europe.

"I am convinced that the American colony in New York — or what remains of it — is smaller than the American colony in Paris at the outbreak of World War II."

Mr. Beebe, who has always been larger than life and twice as handsome, has become a Nevadan by choice. For him, New York is now a wilderness of "poodle dogs all named Fifi, whose leash is attached to a refugee from Paris or Buenos Aires who is adorned with a black homburg at one end and black spats at the other."

"The black hole of Calcutta couldn't be more frightful," Mr. Beebe conceded gloomily. "The American colony in this town lives in a constant state of seige in Jack and Charlie's 21 club, here at the Colony or at the Stork club, existing miserably on caviar and splits of perrier jouet and fighting to keep the blood lines clean."

* * *

How He Keeps Busy.

AS HE paused for breath, I asked Mr. Beebe, an old acquaintance whom I miss more than somewhat, since it was his pleasant custom to ply me with costly vittles from time to time in his New York past, what had brought him east to our splendid sink hole.

"Business, only business," boomed Mr. Beebe, a man never known to lower his voice to anyone.

The business is a new book, "U. S. West, the Saga of Wells Fargo," by himself and chuck Clegg, an author-photographer team specializing in the history of transportation in general and railroads in particular.

The tome, to be published by Dutton in September, is a relative "cheapie" for this duo, since it will retail for a mere $7.50. Their last book "Mixed Train Daily, a Book of Short Line Railroads" became a best seller despite the fact it retailed for $12.50 and was designed for specialists and aficionados who are nutty as Christmas cakes about old railroads.

Now residents of Nevada, the Messrs. Beebe and Clegg make their home in the railroad yards of Carson City, capital of Nevada, in "The Gold Coast." This is the last privately maintained railroad car in operating condition in the U. S. A.

The rugged simplicities of life aboard the car, decorated in the voluptuous red plush, gilt and crystal of the early U. S. Grant period, include a butler who once ministered to the late J. P. Morgan on his yacht Corsair.

New Yorkers are always irking Mr. Beebe by asking "Yes, but what do you find to do in Nevada?"

"My days are full," said Mr. B. testily. "I swim, I picnic, I play a little roulette, I get a bet potted and I wire east for money. By that time, it's always tomorrow. Perfect time and economic cycle."

The cycle is broken annually when Mr. Beebe, complete with mink lined overcoat, goes on his winter lecture tour. He loves the ladies' luncheon clubs, which pay such nice lecture fees, but this gourmet can't abide their food. He now carries his own India rubber chicken with him and doubles his fee if the ladies insist he eat with them.

Listen World

Believe In Yourself

By ELSIE ROBINSON

YOU say no one believes in you. But do you establish the belief? Do you believe in yourself?

Respect is not established in the other fellow's mind. We must create it in our attitude toward ourselves. If you have faith in yourself, if you respect yourself and express that respect in your daily acts, others will respect you and reflect your feeling.

But if, in the secret place of your heart, you are torn by doubts and fears, all those you meet will reflect the darkness within you.

If you want others to believe in you, you must first believe in yourself and that is the toughest job you'll ever face in life.

Aren't we all filled with fear at first? Of course we are. It is the root of all the dark and evil things that we do and we will never accomplish anything or gain any power over circumstances and conditions until we conquer that fear.

But when it is once conquered we are truly "masters of our fate, captain of our souls."

And others, feeling that power, will fall in with its wave length. For though you can't see power or read its bank book, you feel it unconsciously in the presence of courage and wisdom.

* * *

YOU have often felt it when a brave person enters the room. Even without knowing that person's name or hearing his voice, you feel his power. You feel it in the expression within his eyes—in the way he walks—in his gestures of welcome or greeting.

Science cannot explain this mystery yet. Perhaps the answer to it is a matter of vibration. We are composed of electricity as well as organic matter, minerals and water.

Science tells us that we are sending and receiving stations too. So fear may be a static, and that is why we are depressed if the other fellow is depressed. We sink if the other fellow is cowardly. We are inspired if he is courageous.

You don't believe it? Try it out. See how it registers in your own mind.

Believe in yourself and the world will believe in you. Doubt yourself and the world will only return the shadow that lies over your own spirit.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

IT WOULD seem odd to have a Supreme Court justice everyone calls "Tom" although several other justices have short names for each other.

* * *

Even shorter than Phil Murray applied to the steel makers.

* * *

But Phurious Phil can now be said to have come of age as head of the C.I.O. "A band of sanctimonious professional racketeers" is a phrase in the tradition of the great founder.

* * *

In fact, like Shakespeare and Bacon, it is difficult at times to tell which is talking, Murray or Lewis.

* * *

Anyway, Tom Clark's nomination to the high court should be inspiration for any boy struggling with low marks.

* * *

Was it Harry Bridges who said "Remember it isn't how you play the game that counts it's whether you win or lose?"

Grab Bag

One-Minute Test.

1. What was the nationality of Christopher Columbus?
2. Who was the last Dutch governor of New York?
3. What man held the post of secretary of state longer than any of his predecessors?
4. What U. S. president's wife was first head of the Daughters of the American Revolution?

Words of Wisdom.

Have a purpose in life, and having it, throw into your work such strength of mind and muscle as God has given you.—Thomas Carlyle.

Answers to Test.

1. Italian.
2. Peter Stuyvesant.
3. Cordell Hull.
4. The first wife of Benjamin Harrison—Carolina Lavinia Scot Harrison.

Dorothy Kilgallen

Voice of Broadway

(Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Her guest columnist today is the beautiful young screen star, June Allyson.)

DAYS OF PRETENDING

As a newspaperwoman I guess I'm a pretty fair actress. Critics — please don't answer that!

At any rate, I puzzled over what I could write here for three days. Then, last night, I asked my husband what he would suggest. "When you go to the studio tomorrow," Dick told me, "just take a look around you. That's where writers often find their best material — right in everyday life as it surrounds them."

So this morning I did just that — and I think I found something. At least, it made me realize just what strange, and satisfying, things happen in Hollywood.

When I've worked with Van Johnson in pictures, I frequently have thought of the coincidence in our being teamed. Van and I were friends in New York years ago, when we were just a couple of kids struggling for our first breaks in show business. Hollywood was our mutual dream.

* * *

BUT IT WASN'T until I looked around me this morning that I realized how many other surprising tricks Fate has played. And why I've felt so right at home here from the start, with a sense of having known the people here all my life. In many more cases than I realized before, I have known them at least since I grew out of little girlhood.

I was little more than a kid when I was understudying Betty Hutton in "Panama Hattie" in New York. This morning I bumped into Betty as she came to the studio to make plans for her role in "Annie Get Your Gun." It seems strange now, but our meeting again reminded me of how, without really wishing her any back luck, I used to think how nice it would be if she'd turn up with a cold someday. So I could go on for her.

It was during "Panama Hattie" that I met Van. He was working in an adjoining theatre at the time, as understudy to Gene Kelly in "Pal Joey". When I was appearing with Gene last year in "Words and Music", Van came over to the set one day, and, for a gag, worked as standin for the man he used to understudy.

In those earlier days on Broadway, Gene and Betty, of course, were doing all right. But, the salary of understudies wasn't exactly one to get rich on. I'll never forget the night Van and I had a date to go to a movie. Early in the evening, he called and asked if I'd like to have dinner with him first. Something in his voice told me that he was just as broke as I was. So, I replied that I wasn't hungry, but maybe a hotdog...

* * *

I could almost sense the relief in his voice as he suggested we meet at Nedick's, the open air stand on Broadway and 45th Street. That's where all the younger actors used to dine luxuriously on hot dogs and orange juice.

We had "dinner" for twenty cents. After the movie, we went to an Automat on Times Square for coffee.

That was the night we saw a picture, at my suggestion, with Margaret Sullavan, my favorite. Playing opposite her was Jimmy Stewart. I didn't dream that one day I would be playing Jimmy's wife in a picture myself. When I did, in "The Stratton Story" recently, it was a nostalgic feeling.

But, Van and I both did considerable dreaming that night, over our coffee at the Automat. We both admitted that we would like to try Hollywood some day. And that started Van on an hour-long eulogy of his favorite actor, Spencer Tracy. Now, since working together in two pictures, Van and his idol are very close friends in Hollywood.

We did a lot of pretending in those days, and it was fun. But, we never went so far as to imagine ourselves in pictures with those same stars that we used to worship from our seats in the balcony.

* * *

LOOKING AROUND ME this morning, as I followed Dick's advice, I saw Fred Astaire driving down the studio street, and he waved to me. Fred is scheduled to do two more pictures for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and I have heard pleasing rumors that I might be in one of them. Now, wouldn't that be something!

Back in those former days in New York, even before "Panama Hattie" and my meetings with Van, Gene and Betty, I virtually used to live in a theater showing any Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers picture. My record was seeing "The Gay Divorcee" fourteen times! After each show, I'd rush home and try to imitate the dance routines done by Ginger and Fred.

This actually led to my start in show business. I couldn't help boasting to my girl friends of my progress, and one day one of them said, "If you're so good, why don't you get in a show?" Then she hauled out a newspaper with a notice that dancing girls were wanted for the new musical "Sing Out The News."

Before I knew it, the other girls had goaded me into auditioning. Without music, I did my favorite Astaire-Rogers routine, using some of Fred's steps and some of Ginger's although I am sure none of them could have been recognized. Then, to my complete amazement, I was told to report the next day. And I became the third girl from the end in the chorus! The one who was always out of step.

When Fred and Ginger were dancing for "The Barkleys of Broadway" recently, I stopped on the set to watch them. Seeing them in person, instead of on the screen I was convinced that I had the two best teachers in the business.

I've often heard people say that all roads in show business lead to Hollywood. But, never have I realized the truth of this so fully, and in such a personal manner, as this morning.

Combining the new flavor favorite, canned Florida blended orange and grapefruit juice, and canned grapefruit sections, this two-tone molded salad will keep you from suffering from the heat this summer.

A different recipe for a molded gelatine salad gives you this light-as-a-cloud concoction —light because of the ingredients, canned Florida blended orange and grapefruit juice and canned Florida grapefruit sections, and light because of the method in which the two-tone effect is achieved Refreshing as a breeze, you can make it almost as easily by following this recipe:

Two-Tone Citrus Mold

1 No. 2 can Florida grapefruit sections
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
½ cup sugar
1 No. 2 can Florida blended orange and grapefruit juice
6 maraschino cherries, sliced
1 egg white

Drain grapefruit sections. Soften gelatine in 1 cup of the drained grapefruit syrup. Place over low heat and stir constantly until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; add sugar and stir until dissolved. Add 2¼ cups blended orange and grapefruit juice. Chill until the mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Arrange grapefruit sections and cherries in individual or a two-quart mold; cover with one-half of the gelatine mixture and chill until almost firm. Beat egg white until stiff and add remaining gelatine; beat until light and fluffy. Pour on top of first layer; chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with grapefruit sections. Serve plain or with shipped tions. Serve plain or with shipped cream. YIELD: 8 to 10 servings.

Picnic Attended By Thirty-Five

The Ladies auxiliary of the Eagles held a picnic Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William Doty, Fleming Falls road. There were thirty-five present.

After supper contests were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Conrad Kalbfleisch, Mrs. Albert Kelly, Mrs. Harry McGee, Mrs. Robert Fiedler, Mrs. Nellie Morrison, Mrs. William Emerson and Mrs. Helen Wolford. The next meeting will be held August 19.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, August 4

While the indications are for pleasant, happy and active developments in private affairs, domestic, romantic and social, yet there is sign of frustration, limitations of postponements in workaday matters. It may be difficult to make progress, or to put over serious and enduring projects. Health of self or family may give concern.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may have to apply themselves to their purely personal relations in order to enjoy a pleasant and prosperous state of affairs. Other interests may lag along with status persistence, with limitations, blocks or postponements. Concentrated methods or attention to systematic developments or outstanding executive ability might have power to "movemountains." Move shrewdly.

A child born on this day, while studious, sturdy and earnest, may find its comfort or diversion in purely personal pleasures or ties.

In 1948 U. S. fire damage reached the all - time high of $711,114,000.

Auto Safety Checks Rise In Bucyrus

Police Report Better Response

BUCYRUS — An increase of almost 300 per cent was noted in the number of automobiles given safety checks by the Bucyrus police department last month compared with the 1948 total.

Lt. Charles E. Ghist, police department safety officer, reported police checked 3,434 vehicles this year compared with only 1,238 last year.

Of the 3,434 vehicles inspected by police, only 448 were found to have defects. The most frequent defect was defective stoplights. 169 motorists being refused safety stickers because their stoplight was inoperative.

Other defects included: 79 tail lights, 36 for bad brakes, 26 headlights, 25 windshield wipers, four non-working horns, two for steering apparatus and two rear view mirrors. There also were 105 cases of miscellaneous defects.

Ashland Hires Elyria Teacher

ASHLAND — Miss Alice McCracken, primary teacher at Elyria public schools for the past 25 years, has been employed by the Ashland board of education as elementary supervisor. Miss McCracken succeeds Miss Harriett Kerr who retired in June.

A graduate of Ohio State university, Miss McCracken is completing work on her master's degree at Kent State university. At Elyria she was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, A.A.U.W., Y.W.C.A., Elyria Education association and was first president of the Elyria Civic Forum. She will assume her new duties in late August.

Bucyrus Church Plans Reception For Pastor

BUCYRUS — A reception will be held by Epworth Methodist congregation here for the new pastor, Rev. Arthur W. Deutsch, and his family at the church's Friendship hall Friday night.

The evening's program will be preceded by a potluck supper.

Rev. Deutsch was assigned to the local church by the recent Methodist conference at Lakeside. He succeeded Rev. D. L. Custis, who was assigned to Rev. Deusch's old pastorate in Youngstown.

Discontinued Rural Schools Set Reunion

By VIRGINIA LEE, N-J State Correspondent

LUCAS—Former teachers and pupils of Hopewell, Maple Grove and Valley Hall, Monroe township rural schools long since discontinued, will meet in annual reunion Saturday at Pleasant Valley church.

Officers of the combined alumni association are: State Representative C. L. Mitchell, of Mansfield, president, and Mrs. Mentzer McFarland, Lucas R. D. 1, secretary-treasurer.

Hopewell school reunions date from 1915 when the late Mrs. Mary W. Tucker, mother of Lucas and Monroe township's oldest man, John Tucker, prepared and read a history of the school district. Maple Grove reunion was held first on July 18, 1925 but it was not until Aug. 7, 1936 the three school groups combined to form the alumni organization that has held annual gatherings since that time.

Mrs. Tucker's "History of Hopewell" recalled that the first school in the district was held in half of a double log house owned by Melzar Coulter and was taught by another John Tucker, a native of New Hampshire prior to his Monroe township residence.

The next school was in a rude log cabin built on the farm now owned by W. H. Swigart. It had a mud and stick chimney, a puncheon floor, a clapboard roof held down with poles and an open fireplace across one end where huge logs burned to keep out "the howling winter blasts", according to the poignant description penned by Mrs. Tucker.

A hewed log house on the former Joseph Hastings farm "near the road running southwest" served for a time. This was considered "pretty fine" with its slab benches that doubled as coasting sleds in times of snow and its auger-pinned wide boards for writing desks. Birch of hickory "gads" were standard equipment in such institutions.

Early in the 50's a frame house was built by the late J. S. Charles opposite the former residence of Cyrus Collins. The first teacher, Eli Johnson, gave it the name of Hopewell.

"This was a fine structure indeed," Mrs. Tucker wrote, "with plastered walls, desks and seats where two large or three small ones could sit comfortably. It had a long blackboard with chalk rack underneath. Bits of chalk were broken from a large chunk. Pieces of sheepskin tacked on small blocks of wood were used for rubbers.

"A big box stove with a great drum on top would roast the head and freeze the feet but the low box of sand, or earth, or brick underneath for safety from falling sparks or coals was a fine place to toss apple cores and tobacco quids".

Schoolboys of the 60's became soldiers overnight. Hopewell sent 12 to the Civil War, five that did not return or died shortly afterward.

In the war years and those that followed the school that was once the district pride deteriorated until it was condemned. It was replaced in 1879 by the brick building on the valley road that has become the residence of the John Palmer family since it was abandoned as a school. The converted Maple Grove building is occupied by the Albert Lape family. The Jesse Maurer family lives in the former Valley Hall building.

Plowing Match Set August 15

Farmers From 8 Counties Eligible

Area farmers are sharpening up their plows in preparation for an area plowing match Aug. 15.

The contest will be held on the Hugh Vance farm, six miles west of Millersburg just north of Route 39, according to Frank Hothem, chairman of the Coshocton county soil conservation district board of supervisors.

Hothem has been appointed by the State Association of Soil conservation supervisors to conduct the match as a part of the program to secure contestants for the plowing matches at the State Conservation field days at the Apple Creek State farm in Wayne county Aug. 23 and 24.

The counties to be represented in the are match will be Richland, Ashland, Wayne, Stark, Holmes, Tuscarawas Knox and Coshocton. Each county is entitled to a contestant in a level land plowing match and also one in the contour plowing match.

Aaron Lockheart, chairman of the Richland Soil Conservation district board of supervisors, S. N. McIntosh, Holmes county agricultural agent; and Larry Sarbaugh, associate county agent of Coshocton county are in charge of obtaining judges for the area contest.

The winners of the area meet will compete in the state contest and the winner there will go to the national contest to be held in Iowa later this fall

See Cattle Price Boost

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government had a word of encouragement today for the men who produce the nation's beefsteaks and roasts.

With prices of choice grade steers down $15 a hundred pounds from post-war peaks, many cattle feeders have been singing the blues and threatening to go out of business.

Any considerable movement along this line would turn cattle production downward just at a time when a halt has been made in a four-year decline that threatened to cause short supplies of beef.

Noting in a report that cattle feeders are "looking for a long period of extremely low prices," the Agriculture department said:

"They may be wrong for the long-time outlook for cattle feeders is generally more favorable than for producers of most other agricultural products."

Developments which the department described as "encouraging" for the feeders include: (1) more plentiful and cheaper supplies of grain feeds; (2) improved forage crops and pastures; (3) government development of more efficient feeding practices; and (4) an annual average increase of 2,000,000 persons in the nation's population.

Playground Events Listed For 3 Days

Mrs. Virginia Kirby, of the city recreation department announced the week's schedule of events for the playgrounds, today.

This afternoon, Prospect park will be the scene of a mother and daughter dinner. Entertainment will follow the dinner. Thursday afternoon, members of the Johns park playground will hold a swimming party at Liberty park pool.

The older boys at the South boulevards playground will go for a hike Friday afternoon while members of the Maple lake park playground will hold a hobby show, exhibiting their own hobbies. In the morning, Friday, Hobo day will be held at North Lake park. The youngsters will take their lunches with them and hike to Middle park and South park.

Files Tax Lien Against Club

The federal government yesterday filed a tax lien for $883 as due in back taxes from the American Legion Richland Post 72, at 217 North Diamond street.

The tax lien notice, filed in the county recorder's office, says the Legion post owes $643 in federal admissions tax for March through June, 1948 while the balance of the $883 is owed in withholding and social security taxes.

The post clubrooms were damaged June 30 by fire which the state fire marshal's office attributed to arson. The fire is still under investigation.

Cancer Society To Meet Sept. 12

Plans for the annual meeting of the Richland County Cancer Society were made Monday night at the executive committee meeting of the society.

The annual meeting has been scheduled for Sept. 12 in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The meeting will convene at 7 p. m.

Business of the annual meeting will include the election of officers and executive committee members and reading of the annual report.

Tree Farms Spring Up In Northwest

Wait 90 Years For Harvest

By RICHARD H. SYRING
(By Central Press)

PORTLAND, Ore. — Here in the Pacific northwest they are planting crops that will not be harvested for 90 years.

Each year more acres of logged-over lands are replanted or reseeded into what become "tree farms." Douglas fir trees are planted like any crop, with the main difference being in the harvest date. One of your descendents will do the harvesting.

Eight years ago there was nothing like a tree farm. You just cut down the trees and hoped that nature would grow some more. Then the large private timber companies caught the conservation fever.

After all, when you had millions of dollars invested in logging camps and sawmills you had to protect yourself with a continuous supply of raw material — trees.

So in less than 10 years, 23 states have started tree farms with more than 17,250,000 acres devoted to just growing rees. Of course, in the southern states pine trees are harvested during your lifetime. However, in the Pacific northwest the tree crop is deferred, because Douglas firs are slow to grow.

This area, which still has the nation's largest stands of virgin timber, now has more than 3,000,000 acres certified as tree farms. Lumbermen take their tree-farming seriously. After all, they admit, they have a responsibility to the rest of the nation.

★

Righ now they supply more than one-third of the nation's softwood lumber. Oregon and Washington, for example, have 46,204,000 acres of commerical forests. There's enough potential lumber for a good many million houses.

William D. Hagenstein, forest engineer for the West Coast Lumbermen's association and Pacfic Northwest Loggers' association, says tree farming is like putting money in the bank.

"The only difference," he explains, "is that in the case of growing trees, you don't draw any interest or principal for 90 years. But the value increases nevertheless."

Restocking of logged-over or burned-over area by nature is the system advocated by the West Coast Lumbermen's association It's the cheapest by far. In 10 years, with any luck, nature will restock an acre with from 1,000 to 3,000 fir trees.

Where does nature get the seed?

Under best forest practices, a logging companying now leaves staggered settings. That means that from 60 to 160 acres of timber are cut, then that much is skipped over, so hat a place is left close enough where nature can get a supply of Douglas fir seeds to scatter on the winds. If the logged-off area is found to be amply stocked in five to 10 years, then the logging company returns and logs off these so-called seed trees.

There are two other methods. One is to scatter minute Douglas fir seeds (they average about 40,000 to the pound) by helicopter. But many of these are gobbled up by tiny white-footed mice before they have a chance to germinate. This rodent is the scourge of the northwest forest planters and is said to eat its weight every 24 hours.

However, ways are being found to take care of Mr. Mouse. Seeds treated with thallium sulphate are also scattered.

"Two seeds and the mouse is dead — quick!" says Forester Hagenstein.

From one quarter to a half pound of seeds are scattered per acre, depending on the moisture

HAND-PLANTING — This is the most expensive way of planting a tree farm.

★ ★ ★

at the time. But the loss is great. Foresters estimate that it takes about five million seeds to produce 500 trees.

★

Third method is hand planting. A planting hoe is struck into the ground and into the gash in the earth is inserted a five to seven-inch fir, with an elaborate root system longer than the tiny tree is high. But this is a costly method, about $20 an acre as compared to $10 or $12 the other way.

Most of the tiny trees come from the West Coast Lumbermen's association's own non-profit nursery at Nisqually, Wash., established in 1942, where they are grown scientifically from seed. Last year the nursery produced more than 8,000,000 seedlings. One-year-old trees cost timbermen about $5.75 per thousand.

Within a few weeks now, as soon as the fall rains start, the new crop of seedlings will be rooted, about 550 to the acre. Or, if it's an acre left to nature, only enough trees are planted to supplement what nature failed to do.

However, seedlings, too, have enemies, being often chewed up by rabbits or mountain beaver. This necessitates replanting but this method is successful on the average.

You just cannot declare a patch or logged over timber land as a tree farm. Rules for operating a tree farm are rigid. A timber operator who applies to the joint committee on forest conservation of the West Coast Lumbermen's association and Pacific Northwest Loggers' association must agree to protect his from such things as fire, insects, disease and excessive grazing, as well as harvest the timber from the area in a manner that will assure future crops. Also information must be furnished the group.

The proposed tree farm later is checked by a forester from the committee. The timber operator then appears before the committee, and if the farm is determined to be feasible for fire protection, and at the same time economical for timber growing, the area then gets the coveted certification.

Big and little companies have tree farms. The Weyerhaeuser Timber company has 12 farms, encompassing more than 2,000,000 acres. The Crown Zellerbach corporation, makers of pulp and paper, have eight tree farms, with more than 500,000 acres.

Apprentice Completing Her Final Week of Library Work

Miss Nancy Geibel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Geibel, 569 Arlington avenue, is completing her final week of apprenticeship at the Mansfield public library.

Miss Geibel, a student at Oberlin college, began at the library five weeks ago. She has worked in each department including the cataloguing, children's, county, and reference sections and this week has been working with Miss Lois MacKellar, librarian, on administrative work.

At the close of the summer, Miss Geibel will return to Oberlin from where she will be graduated next June.

She is the third apprentice to join the library staff during summers. The other two have been Miss Muriel Morton and Miss Helen McClure. Miss McClure returned to the library for this summer and has been assisting during vacations.

The Mansfield library is a member of the recruiting commission of which Miss MacKellar is chairman. Apprentices are added to the staffs during summer months with the hope of interesting students in taking up library work as a career.

Thursday Miss Geibel will accompany Miss MacKellar to Cleveland for a day's visit with the Western Reserve Library school.

The apprentice ship here is sponsored by the Memorial Library board.

Huge Crop Presents New Problem

Will Play Part In '50 Politics

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Mother nature may upset plans of both Democrats and Republicans to make the administration's Brannan farm plan major issue for the midwestern farm vote in 1950 congressional elections.

This is a predicition, at least, of many farm leaders and officials returning from the midwest with glowing forecasts of a stupendous corn crop this year. Most of them are predicting the crop will be by far the largest on record if weather continues reasonably favorable.

In that event, the big political issue in powerful farm belt states next year could be the same one that — in the opinion of most political observers — contributed to President Truman's surprising victory there last year.

That issue was a shortage of grain storage.

Last year, in the weeks before the election, corn prices dropped sharply below government price support levels. Many farmers were forced to sell grain at a sacrifice.

The Truman administration blamed the Republican 80th Congress. It said prices fell under price supports because there was a shortage of storage. (Price support aid was extended only to that grain in acceptale storage). The Democrats said the Republican 80th Congress took away government authority to provide emergency storage.

Mr. Truman and his secretary of agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, promised to solve the storage situation.

At any rate, many corn belt states which had been counted for Republican presidential nominee Dewey went for Truman

But the storage issue next year could well embarrass the Democrats and help the Republicans. So far the administration had done little itself to increase storage facilities. It has asked for bids for 50,000,000 bushels capacity. But this would house a comparatively insighificant quantity of grain.

Should the corn crop turn out to be a record size 3,700,000,000 bushels, the country would have far more of this grain than ever before. Supplementing the crop will be a carryover or reserve or more than 800,000,000 bushels from last year.

Possibly half this reserve would be turned over to the government under 1948 price support operations. Unless it acts promptly, the government would have no place to put much of this grain.

Naturally, a shortage of storage could be expected to pull corn prices below support levels again. This time, the blame would be put on the administration's doorstep. That's because Congress has now given the administration authority to deal with the storage problem.

To many farmer-voters, the immediate problem of depressed corn prices would be of more importance than the pro and con arguments over a new farm plan.

Completes Milk Test

Holstein-Friesian cow owned by W. B. Cockley, Lexington, has completed a 365 day production test of 660 pounds of butterfat and 19,392 quarts of milk.

The Herd Improvement Registry test was supervised by Ohio States university in cooperation with the Holstein-Fresian association of America.

The cow, Willeben Johanna Belle Ona, was milked twice daily and was 15 years two months of age when she began her test period.

SEAT BURNED

Firemen from Central station were called to Fifth and Diamond streets Tuesday afternoon when a blaze developed in the rumble seat of a car owned by Robert Miller, 286 Wayne street. Firemen said damage was slight. Origin of the fire was unknown.

Visitor From Nigeria Reports:

Parents Supervise Marriages

By NITA BRANSON

After talking with Lathnde Odeku, 22, of Nigeria, West Africa, a guest at the home of Mrs. John Davis, 235 East First street, one wonders if it wouldn't be a good idea for some of the so-called "primitive" customs of that country to be inculcated into American living.

Take the matter of divorce, for instance. Odeku says that if one is married according to the native customs, then one cannot get a divorce unless the entire family agrees. Since there is a patriarchial system of family life among Nigerian natives, getting a separation from one's husband and wife is a difficult procedure, according to Odeku.

Odeku is in America as a student at Howard university where he became a friend of Herbert Davis, son of Mrs. John Davis. He is here to study medicine and plans to return to Lagos, Nigeria, his home city, to join the government hospital staff for a time, then later to open up a clinic of specialized medicine.

Since Odeku was allowed to bring only $1,000 to America and that $1,000 represents his father's annual salary of 250 pounds, he has "crammed" his studies in order to get through sooner than most American students.

"I came here," Odeku said in his excellent English, "in January 1948. I'll be a senior next year, then I want to remain here for my medical training."

Odeku completely dissolved all pre-conceived theories about West Africa natives. He is a cultured, educated man, more than six feet tall, whose personality is as charming and sincere as that of any young America student who comes from a similar background.

His father is a barrister's clerk in Lagos and although getting his only son educated takes all his current salary, he has saved for years toward this goal. Odeku's father and mother supplement their income by "trading", a practice similar to New Englanders' swapping of items they no longer want for items they can use or sell.

Odeku's earlier education from kindergarten to high school years, was obtained in the British government's missionary school. That school, however, is not a public school in the sense that we know public schools.

There is tuition from kindergarten on up. When Odeku went to kindergarten, his parents paid about $3 per year. By the time he had reached high school, Odeku's tuition was about $24.

"And that," he said, "is a lot of money in Lagos currency."

One can gather a bit of the difference in exchange when you understand that $1,000 of American money means about $5,000 in Nigerian currency.

Odeku and his parents belong to the Yoruba tribe and speak the dialect of that tribe.

"There are many tribes and many languages," Odeku said.

But getting back to native customs. The one about courtship is particularly interesting.

"There are three ways to court a girl," Odeku said. "You can meet and fall in love according to the native custom, or you can court according to a mixture of native and western civilization or you can go completely western."

Most Lagos young men, however, particularly the educated ones, follow the native custom with a little western civilization thrown in.

When a young man sees a girl he thinks he would like, he approaches her on the street or at school. If she is inclined to be agreeable, then he continues to see her, but away from home. He never accompanies her as far as her door or meets her parents.

Then, having fallen in love and ready to marry, the lad will tell his father. "I'm ready to get married." The rest is up to the parent who starts investigating the girl's background, her parents, her inherent traits, and any other information that is coincidental with getting a son wed to the right girl.

If everything is as it should be, the parents approach the father of the girl and tell him the story. He in turn starts investigating the boy's background. If all is well and good, marriage arrangements are made.

When a boy and girl are married according to native custom, it is a lengthy affair.

"It would take me four hours to tell you all about the ceremonies," Odeku said.

As yet Odeku has no particular girl; he's leaving that until he finishes his education and returns home.

When he does finish his medical education in America, then he must have six months practice in Britain and take a particular examination before he is eligible to practice any place in the British empire.

This week Odeku is going to Winter Park, Colo., to attend an interracial conference under the supervision of the American Friends society. But he expects to return for a few days to Mansfield.

He and Herbert Davis, will reenter Howard university, Washington, D. C. on Oct. 1.

HAILS FROM NIGERIA—Lathnde Okedu, 22, of Lagos, Nigeria, West Africa, points out to Herbert Davis, at whose home, 235 East First street, he has been visiting, a verse in his native Bible, written in Yoruba dialect. Okedu is wearing a native danshiki, a favorite Nigerians garment for around home. Okedu is a classmade of Davis at Howard university, Washington, D. C., where both are taking pre-medical training.

Resurface Area Road

Surface treatment of the Lexington - Springmill road from Springmill to State Route 545, was started yesterday by county highway forces.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk said the work consists of applying liquid asphalt and following this up with applications of stone chips, which are pressed into the new asphalt by a roller.

A total of 37 men working under the highway-relief department program, were at work yesterday.

A part of that work consists in clearing trees and brush off the back slopes on the sides of county roads. Work is going on at present on the Upper Lucas road.

Church Names Picnic Heads

Committee chairmen for the annual family picnic of the Grace Brethren church were announced Tuesday by Frank Poland, superintendent.

The picnic will be held Saturday at South park, beginning at 2 p. m. There will be a picnic supper at 6:15 p. m. There will be softball, ping-pong, badminton, horseshoe pitching and other games and contests, both for the children and adults.

Mrs. Mary Baer heads the refreshment committee; Mrs. Howard Lehnhart, tables; John Guthrie, park; Harold Bolesky, games; Rev. Bernard Schneider, program, and William Breckville, music.

Claims Modern Theater So Ill The Public Turns To Television

NEW YORK—There is a slick thing here that won't die and won't get well.

Many people love it. And a lot of folks pay money to go and see it.

This sick thing is the theater, the fabulous invalid.

The theater has had more doctors than any hypochondriac, including the renowned vegetarian, George Bernard Shaw, who has lived so long that he is beginning to be mistaken for a redwood sapling with premature gray hair.

There are a lot of things wrong with the theater. It suffers from diseases that range from low blood pressure in some seasons to high prices in any season. And I am one of those who admire the patient but would sure like to see the old girl cured.

I don't expect this to happen in my time, as I am a restrained optimist. Part of this is probably pure personal pique.

For example, I met a fellow the other night who bragged he had been to see "South Pacific" twice, whereas I, a citizen of average moral cunning and still two jumps ahead of section 77-B of the bankruptcy act, am yet foreign to his production except via musical recordings of Ezio Pinza's enchanted evening with Mary Martin.

It isn't as if I can't get a couple of ducats to this particular musical show, because I can. I have been promised them — for the usual box office price — by the vice presidents of two theatrical unions and the head of a New Jersey vitamin factory who once met Miss Martin on a picnic in Texas.

The only catch is that I have a three-year apartment lease. By the time the tickets come through I may be living in Bangkok, Siam. Would I feel like spending a long week-end flying here for just one enchantment across a crowded room? Maybe it would be pleasanter to lie in Bangkok sipping a rum frappe—I always drink rum frappes lying down — and listening to temple gongs.

This is what I think is the big trouble with the theater today. You have to plan your whole future to be sure of getting a seat. And I think more and more people are saying: "To Keokuk with the whole darn nuisance — what's new on the television set?"

They are driving the customers away by making your attendance more a test of your Dun and Bradstreet rating than your cultural awareness. Only the graduate of a correspondence course in muscle building can work his way through the throng to buy his seats at the box office for a hit play. And if you purchase them by mail, they are things you leave in your will for your children to enjoy. How can a man be sure he will live long enough to use them himself?

Yet today there are only a baker's dozen of theatrical productions on Broadway, and thousands of eager and able and talented actors, young and old, walk the streets unemployed.

There has arisen among the devotees of the theater the cult of the new. There are a hundred, perhaps a thousand, grand old plays that tell the sad and splendid and terrible story of man — wonderful plays, yet the stages are bare, the theaters darkened. Who wants to see old King Lear die again when for a fast sawbuck and a slow wait you can watch the death of a modern salesman who lost his family empire?

Well, I think there are some millions of us who would gladly fork out $1.10 or $2.20 and climb up in the balcony to watch the dying King cry over his dead daughter:

"Why should a dog, a horse, a rat, have life, and thou no breath at all?"

Poor blind king! Poor dead Cordelia! "Thoul't come no more, never, never, never, never, never!"

Never until the theater climbs out of the sickbed it got itself into, takes off its stuffed shirt — and starts entertaining people by putting more actors back to work.

The play's the thing. And the plays are there.

Hotels Now Using Periscopes To Capture 'Knock-Out' Specialists

Since the exposition of the technique used by thieving women who work hotel lobbies and cocktail-bars, to lure out-of-towners into the men's own rooms, where they slip chloral hydrate (knockout drops) into their drinks and roll them when they pass out, the sordid sorority has switched the system.

The she-wolves now hunt in pairs. Instead of using the come-on of city sophistication, they pose as strangers, themselves, lonesome tourists. Thus the chump disassociates the larceny lasses from the vultures whose modus operandi was laid bare.

But, during recent months, many hotels are fighting such room service robbers with new mechanical devices. Mirrors, so angled that they can sweep any floor at a glance from its clerk's station are old stuff, though still in general use.

Now the manager, in his office, can turn on an instrument whereby he can see everything in any corridor of every square foot of each story — a complicated periscope set-up.

When suspicious women are observed entering a man's quarters, the door is watched and timed for their exit. Smart hotels are afraid to stop visitors, especially more than one. But, as soon as these leave, there is an immediate phone call to the house-guest. If he answers showing he is conscious and unharmed, it's a mistake — sorry. If he doesn't answer, a house dick is already on the way with a passkey, to look in on him.

★

A signal is sent to the elevator operator who has or will get the women in his car. The lift stops and returns to the topmost floor, or, if it is already there, slows down.

The house "security officer" reports. If the guest has been molested, the women are awaited and arrested—on the mezzanine floor, where such action is not as conspicuous as it would be on the main level.

The chloral is put up in capsules, a dime's worth sold by underworld druggists for a dollar. Just the right amount will put a man to sleep in ten minutes and keep him unconscious for hours. Often the thieves start cleaning him before he is out, but already so drugged that he cannot resist. An overdose could be fatal, and has been in such jobs. That the raw workers fear, for it means murder in the first degree. The made-up capsules are usually found in the purses of the suspects.

But the victims rarely prosecute. They are married, are often men of big affairs in their home towns, can't risk the publicity. But possession of the dope (not listed as a narcotic) is good for 90 days per se.

Contrary to movie-stuff and a general impression, modern smart metropolitan hotels rarely disturb a male guest with the old-fashioned knock on the door and the heavy bass voice thundering: "You've got a woman in your room!" Unless parties become noisy, or the females act or appear obviously undesirable, guests are not as a rule disturbed.

Women registered alone who entertain men behind closed doors are more apt to be questioned. "Professionals" using good hotels as "headquarters" cannot be tolerated.

$180,060 Given By Foundation

Friendly House, 'Y,' Church Aided

Gifts for charitable purposes totaling $180,060 have been made by the Richland County Foundation during the past year, the annual report of the organization revealed today.

Largest item was $168,810 toward the construction on the new Friendly House on North Mulberry street. This gift was made in two parts of $145,000 early in the year and $23,810 in April.

To the building fund of the First Congregational church was given $5,000. The new church is now under construction at the corner of Marion avenue and Millsboro road.

The foundation, which receives funds to be held in trust for charity or distributed to worthwhile community projects opened the year with a balance of $238,093.53, the report showed.

It received gifts totaling $13,700 and had income from investments amounting to $1,520.14.

The balance held by the foundation at the end of its fiscal year was $83,251.67.

Flxible Gets Million Loan

LOUDONVILLE — The Flxible company here today closed a million dollar loan with three midwestern insurance companies. Company officials said a report on the disposition of the loan money would be announced shortly.

The loan further strengthens the company's position in both the bus and ambulance manufacturing field, officers reported. They stressed the firm has grown constantly in recent years and now makes a wider list of products.

Hugo H. Young, president, pointed out Flxible now employs 800 workers in its Loudonville and Millersburg plants and now produces about 30 per cent of all inter-city buses being built in the country. Its products are sold throughout the United States and Canada and in recent years its export trade has increased greatly.

Mrs. Triplett Dies At 54

Mrs. Rhea Nelson Triplett, 54, wife of Marvin W. Triplett of 182 South Diamond street, died Tuesday afternoon at General hospital following a two-day illness.

Funeral services will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, with Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in Lexington cemetery.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Triplett, is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John Harfman, of Mansfield; two sons, Clarence D. Nelson of Mansfield and Robert C. Nelson of Detroit; a granddaughter, Kathleen Griffon, and a brother, Chaucey R. Horr of East Chicago, Ind.

Mrs. Triplett was born Jan. 4, 1894 at Shiloh. She came to Mansfield 19 years ago and has been employed by the W. T. Grant company for 18 years. She was working the day she took ill. She was a member of Women's Moosehart Legion No. 47.

Named In $25,000 Suit

Mansfield Man Cited In Action

Walter Hoffman, of 476 South Clifton boulevard, today was sued for $25,000 in common pleas court, as the result of an automobile accident Nov. 28, 1948, on U. S. Route 30-S.

The action was brought by Henry Brilski, 355 Springmill street, who said he was a passenger in the car of James W. Milliron when they ran out of gas and stopped on the right side of the road.

Brilski contends the Hoffman car hit the stalled car and then struck him. He asks the sum for injuries, loss of earnings, hospital and medical bills. His attorney is William A. Calhoun.

In another action, Walter Prosser, doing business as the Veterans Cab company, 386 Ruth avenue, sued Ralph R. Clark, of Wellston, O., for $440.

Prosser contends Clark was careless and negligent in colliding with one of his cabs at Wayne and Spring streets Jan. 24, 1948. He asks the sum for car damages and loss of use of the cab for 14 days, at $10 per day.

Await Housing Fund Forms

Although plans are underway by the Mansfield Housing authority to request $1,000,000 in aid from the federal government, application forms have not yet been received.

E. R. Friday, secretary-manager of the Housing authority, said today the forms are being developed for presentation to cities which want to submit fund requests.

Friday said if the city's request is granted there will be about 400 low-rent housing units constructed for low-income families.

Several Ohio cities have listed requirements from the Public Housing administration after advise from PHA general counsel, Marshall Amis, that they should do so despite pending legal actions.

Butler Bridge Near Completion

The new $8,000 Spring street bridge in Butler will be finished today, County Engineer Walter E. Rusk announced. The new structure, built of steel beams and timber, replaces an old one washed out by flood waters.

The village contributed $500 toward the bridge construction and in addition did the work on the approaches and sidewalls.

Banker's Analysis

Sees No Serious Recession Ahead

"There will not be a serious economic recession in the United States," Paul M. Eliot, president of the Farmers Savings and Trust bank, said to a meeting of the Rotary club yesterday.

The banker predicted that when the present "readjustment" period is over, business activity will level out at a point lower than 1948, but higher than any other peace-time year.

He said, however, that the readjustment is not yet over. "A further decline in business activity is indicated."

Eliot termed the readjustment desirable and wholesome because it makes labor more productive and management more efficient. He said he feels this will lead to a reduction in prices and hence to further purchasing power of the dollar.

The banker gave the following reasons for the recent decline in economic activity: deficit financing came to an end; the conversion of industrial plants was almost completed; the pent up demand for commodities was largely filled; rising prices stimulated production, but potential buyers became fewer.

There were also changes in buying policies. Capital bought inventory for speculative purposes, hoping for an increase in price after purchase.

The outlook for the future is partly dependent on psychological factors Eliot said.

One of the factors is that there is a strong buyer resistance based on expectation that prices will go lower. Overtime work has been reduced and spending has been reduced as a consequence. He also explained that most persons believe that an inflation is always followed by a deflation, a factor that exercises considerable influence.

Uncertainty as to labor negotiations in steel, auto, and coal industries are bound to affect the present situation Eliot declared.

"How long will the readjustment period last? Eliot predicted it to last about six or nine months longer. He said no industry will be spared even though the readjustment is proceeding piecemeal, an industry or two at a time.

Coming to the conclusion there will not be a serious recession Eliot used these considerations:

First he said the demand for housing, autos and other commodities is still great. The accumulated savings are large and increasing. The current national income is high and there has already been a five per cent decline in the cost of living.

The banker saw dangers in the trend in this country toward what he termed "a welfare state."

He pointed out these indications of the trend. The government holds itself responsible for the housing of persons in the lower income groups, for maintaining "parity" prices for farm products. It has provided unemployment insurance and old-age pensions.

By government action, Eliot said, minimum wages and maximum hours of work have been established. The government has created a large number of facilities for lending and guaranteeing loans to farmers, individuals and corporations.

Eliot said these functions of government have on the whole, the sanction of both the Republican and Democratic party.

He questioned the value the welfare state and called for a state where the real welfare of people is not dependent on government handouts. In such a state he said it depends on the quantity of goods produced, and this in turn on the cost of production, the efficiency of management, labor and machinery.

"The welfare state will affect individual initiative, of management as well as of the worker."

Now that Thomas J. The News-Journal will appreciate a tip-off by relatives or friends of anyone approaching the age of 90 or older.

LANDMARK DOWN—

Like a fallen young warrior, the sturdy elm tree which grew at the east side of the Mansfield Public library lies across the entrance steps, hewn down to make way for expansion of the building. The tree is about 23 or 24 years old and is one of several planted when the late Charles Fensch was a member of the school board. Planting trees was a hobby of Mr. Fensch, father of Dr. Edwin Fensch, present director of research of Mansfield public schools. Patrons at the library who enter by the front steps have to walk under the big branches to reach the front door.

Her husband, smitten with the desire to carry on a little outdoors work at home, went on a weed pulling spree. Death Takes M. Gaubatz

Michael Gaubatz sr., 60, died last night at his home, 360 Fourth avenue, after a lingering illness.

He was born in Yugoslavia, Dec. 22, 1899 and came to Mansfield 28 years ago. He was employed in the shipping department of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

Surviving, besides his widow, Katherine, are seven sons, Michael jr., Carl, Richard, Jacob, Fred, and Philip, all of Mansfield; and Nicholas of Millersburg; one daughter, Mrs. Michael Rachel, and one brother, Jacob Gaubatz, both of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. at the Apostolic Christian church and burial will be in Mansfield Memorial park. Friends may call at the Wappner funeral home until the time of the service.

Mrs. Hannah Long Stricken At 78

Mrs. Hannah Arvilla Long, 78, of 151 West Third street, died yesterday after a three-week illness. She was born in Richland county Jan. 2, 1871 and spent her entire life in this vicinity. She was a member of the Perry Christian church at Darlington. Mrs. Long is survived by one son, Hugh A. Long, Mansfield.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Friday at 1:30 p. m., with Rev Ben F. Hagelbarger of the First Christian church officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield Memorial park.

Weaver Talks To Club

Raps Lack Of Planning

Some of the things that have annoyed Mansfielders for years probably would be eliminated under a council-manager form of government, Stuart M. Weaver told Mansfield Cooperative club members last night.

Weaver, vice president of the Ideal Electric company and one of the city's principal backers of the council-manager plan, addressed the club at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. He formerly was city manager in Montclair, N. J., and Monroe, Mich.

The "annoyances" Weaver said should be corrected include frequent water line breaks, street dig-ups that aren't filled for several days, lack of downtown parking lots, and the construction of filling stations and other commercial enterprises in residential areas.

Without a zoning law and a plan to work by, Mansfield "just grew", Weaver said.

"This is one of the country's few rapidly growing cities and it needs planning. We plan only once. We need to know the type streets, sewers and water lines required in specific areas. A residential street won't hold up in an industrial area. Facory areas need bigger water lines."

ZONING LAW NEEDED

He rapped the lack of a zoning law that permits business buildings in residential sections.

"A fellow who has spent his money on a nice house is entitled to protection," he said.

"Streets don't have to be allowed to deteriorate as they do here. Street dig-ups can be filled immediately if the work is done properly. Left open or filled with soft earth, they are a hazard to traffic."

He said the city should have stopped installing four-inch water lines 25 years ago because they are too small to provide adequate fire protection.

Weaver said the council-manager plan provides a "more efficient, better-trained government" which is needed in these days of complicated city government.

Backers of the city manager program are asking a vote in Mansfield this fall on the proposals. Council tonight will get petitions requesting the referendum.

Weaver was introduced last night by Rowland J. Welsh, program chairman. The meeting was in charge of Leslie K. Wagner, club president.

Mrs. Stull Dies At 46

Mrs. Marie Barr Stull, 46, of 546 Bowman street, widow of Harold J. Stull, died early today at Mansfield General hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Mansfield, Mrs. Stull was born here on July 7, 1903. Until her recent illness she served as secretary at the George Fox collection agency. Mrs. Stull was a member of Grace Gospel church.

Surviving are her father, John E. Barr, and one brother, Jack E. Barr, both of Mansfield. Her mother, Mrs. Lettie R. Barr, preceded her in death on Feb. 22.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. at the Finefrock funeral home with burial in Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Illness Fatal To Mrs. Groth

Mrs. Mary E. Groth, 68, widow of the late William Groth, died early this morning at her home at 239 East First street, following a four-year illness.

Friends may call at the Wappner funeral home Thursday evening, where services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, will officiate. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Mrs. Groth is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Curtis Schaffer of Mansfield; a sister, Mrs. Hallie Ryland also of Mansfield and two granddaughters and two grandsons.

Mansfield's Naval Reserve Program Opened To Seabees

Mansfield's Naval Reserve training program will include a SeaBee company beginning Aug. 10, Commander John A. Smith announced yesterday.

Five officers and 40 enlisted men will draw $10,000 pay annually for their reserve activities. Training will consist of basic parts of construction work, seminars and instruction in civil architectural, electrical, and construction engineering.

There are openings for former SeaBee personnel and other qualified persons whether army or civilian.

The men selected will all be specialists, Smith said. There will be none ranking lower than second class.

The reservists will be required to, participate in two weeks intensive training duty each year. During that period they will receive full pay and allowances in accordance with their rank.

Some of the specialists requested include clerk typists, electricians, drivers, gasoline and Diesel mechanics, builders, steelworkers, draftsmen and surveyors.

Persons interested in joining the unit which will meet one night weekly at the Naval Armory on Ashland road are requested to call the armory.
